

TWO MORE STRIKERS SHOT TO DEATH IN BATTLE WITH GUARDS

RUSSIANS IN PRAYER AS TEUTONS PUSH ON

Kaiser's Forces Continue Drive at Warsaw From North, West and South

LONDON, July 22, noon.—While prayers for victory were being said today throughout Russia, the Austrians and Germans continued their drive at Warsaw from the north, the west and the south. Meanwhile they were reaching farther north towards Riga on the Baltic, from which their advance guard is distant not more than 20 miles.

The tone of despatches from Petrograd bespeaks plainly that the country is aware of the gravity of the military situation, involving not only the fate of the Polish capital, but the integrity of the Russian army in Poland, the northern and southern sections of which might be cut in two by a decisive defeat along the Lublin-Chelm railway. It is along this sector that the Russians are now fighting most desperately, for this railway is the sole great artery of communication of Poland with southern Russia, sweeping away from Lublin and Chelm towards Oksza. Having several times been reported within five miles of the railroad and now, according to Austrian claims, having pierced the Russian front, this section of the Teutonic forces should be within rifle shot of the railway, but no claim has been made of having seized it.

Northwest of Lublin, however, the Teutonic forces have pushed forward to the bridgehead positions south of Ivanogorod and thence northward. Around the circle which is tightening on Warsaw they have made steady progress, though meeting with serious opposition along the Narew river, northwest of the capital. Elsewhere, generally speaking, the Russians are falling back, employing the tactics with which they harassed Napoleon in 1812. That is, they are not only burning all bridges and destroying roads, but are laying waste the countryside with fire and dynamite, removing such provisions as they can, destroying such as they cannot take away, driving cattle and other livestock before them, and leaving for the invader a ruined and desolate waste.

Russia Doing More Than Share
All Courland has been laid waste and Windau, in flames, sent up a glow visible many miles away. The British public is following with an anxiety the campaign in the east, and that Grand Duke Nicholas may in the Austro-German line, or at least extricate his armies and continue in further retreat the cohesion he has been able to maintain thus far.

Coincident with despatches from Russia saying that the spirit of the army is unbroken and that the belief in ultimate victory is strong, comes the report that the feeling is growing that Russia is doing more than her share in the war, bearing at present almost the entire burden. These complaints, according to special correspondents, are not confined to the rank and file. Russian newspapers contrast the colossal battle in which their nation is engaged with the comparative inaction along the western front.

SUMMARY OF TODAY'S WAR NEWS
Desperate fighting continues between the Teutonic armies pressing upon Warsaw and the Russian forces defending it with the issue still in the balance.

Both Armies Claim Successes
Advances along all the fronts are claimed in the latest German and Austrian official statements, but Petrograd, while not denying the closer drawing in of the Austro-German lines in some sectors, asserts that these lines are being held stationary or hurled backward at vital points.

Teutonic Offensive Arrested
On the important front south of Lublin a serious breach, which would mean the cutting of the Lublin-Chelm railroad line and a division of the Russian armies to the north and the south, the Russian resistance seems to be strongest. The Petrograd statement claims the Teutonic offensive has been arrested there.

Germans Driven Back
Counter-attacks have driven the Germans back along the line of the Narew to the north of Warsaw, the Russians declare. They assert also that their lines on the left bank of the Vistula, southeast of the city, are holding.

The fortress of Novogeorgievsk seems to be proving effective help in keeping the Teutons in check to the northwest, for the time at least.

German Advance in Battle
In the battle provinces the German advance is progressing, with their outposts barely twenty miles from Riga, their immediate objective.

Italians Claim Gains
Along the Austro-Italian front Rome claims the gain of a part of the heights commanding Gorizia and the Isonzo bridges from the right bank of the river. The latest report from Vienna declares that all attacks on Gorizia have been checked and that a height that the Italians had captured was re-taken.

Heavy Fighting in Alsace
Heavy fighting in Alsace is reported in the French official statement. Nine German counter-attacks followed an attack by the French in which the latter had captured a trench on the heights west of Muenster. The French claim to have held their ground and to have maintained all previous gains.

French Air Raiders
Further bombardment of German communication lines in aeroplane raids, the latest one in the Argonne, is reported from Paris. Success in striking the station at Autry with 12 bombs is claimed.

Quiet has prevailed in the Dardanelles since the successes of the entente allies on July 12 and 13 the French war department says.

FEATURES OF LAST NIGHT'S WAR NEWS IN BRIEF
FORM
Russians appear to have checked the Teutonic advance from the northward on Warsaw in three fierce counter-attacks from Pulituk, Rozan and Novogeorgievsk. German reports gains west of the Polish capital on the Narew-Gronow line and of "progressing" in the southern field.

The Austrian war office announces that the Italians captured Monte San Michele, east of Sdraussina, but that they were later driven out. French report a partial success in a drive for the valley of the Fecht in the Vosges. French aviators drop bombs on Colmar and a fleet of 31 aviators bombarded Conflans-en-Jarnisy. Paris reports Germans gaining a foothold in the Eastern Argonne.

Italians report that they have pierced the Austrian front on the Isonzo in three places. Two Turkish delegates expected at Geneva today with powers to deal for a separate peace with the Triple Entente.

TROOPS ORDERED TO BAYONNE, N. J.

Two Men Shot Through Heart—Fires Broke Out During Riot—Strikers Defy Sheriff Who Admits Situation is Beyond Control in Appeal for Militia

NEW YORK, July 22.—Two dead and six seriously injured, one probably mortally, was the harvest reaped by rioters at the Standard Oil and Tidewater plants today as the result of two attacks on the deputies guarding the property. Two fires also occurred, one in the Standard Oil plant, where a watchman's house was virtually destroyed; the other in the yard of the Tidewater Oil company, where staves and lumber were stored. This last fire was started by means of burning oily waste thrown over the walls by rioters. It was speedily extinguished with trifling loss.

Shot Through Heart
Those killed in the fighting were Stanley Murefko, 23 years old, and Nicolay Iwaszkio, 19, both of whom were shot through the heart by Winchester rifle bullets apparently fired by the guards. The men were killed during an attack on the barrel works of the Tidewater plant which began at 11.40 a. m. and lasted for half an hour. The sudden heavy downpour of rain had much to do with stopping this fight.

Strikers Defy Sheriff
A feature of this attack was a defiance of the strikers by Sheriff Eugene Kinkead, who has tried to persuade the men to keep order and submit their grievances to arbitration. He rushed up to the rioters when the melee was at its height and commanded the men to desist. He was greeted with jeers and left the scene. Later it was announced that he had asked for troops and that companies from Newark and Red Bank will soon be on the scene.

Appeal for Troops
In a statement regarding his call for troops, Sheriff Kinkead said: "I telephoned to the governor that it was necessary to call out the militia. The men are not amenable to reason. They don't seem able to distinguish between my men and the men paid as guards. The situation is beyond my control and I have asked the governor to send men at once."

Former Austrian Soldier Dying
Of the wounded in today's fighting, John Surgen, said to be a former Austrian soldier, who led the fighting in the first attack, which was made early today on the Standard Oil plant, is probably mortally wounded. He was shot through the abdomen.

Until the men got out of hand today Sheriff Kinkead had every hope that he would bring about a settlement of the differences of the Standard Oil strikers, who went out late last week and Monday following a demand for a 15 per cent. increase in wages. The Tidewater plant was shut down because of the disorder. The sheriff, with a committee, had consulted with Standard Oil officials and expected to have another conference with them late today. He also telephoned to Washington for conciliators and two were on their way to Bayonne when the disorder was resumed and the sheriff was defied.

NOTE ON WAY TO BERLIN

Fellow With a Borrowed Motorcycle Runs Amuck—Other Cases
Mike Aliek, a youth of about 20 years, borrowed a modern and well equipped motorcycle last evening and then started to entertain some of his friends by driving along the "white way" district of the city. With two passengers in a side car, another on a rear seat and Aliek himself at the handle bars the party proceeded through streets but very soon attracted the attention of Patrolman Andrew W. Drowett, who watches on Middlesex street. After seeing the cyclist make several trips up and down the street, Patrolman Drowett ordered him to come to a halt. When requested to show his license, Aliek answered that he did not possess one and so he was taken to the station and locked up.

In police court this forenoon the young man pleaded guilty to a charge of driving a motorcycle without a license, claiming that he did not know he was obliged to carry such a permit. He was ordered to pay a fine of $5 to Probation Officer Slattery before Saturday.

Man From New York
John J. McLoughlin, who claims New York as his home, was brought into court charged with larceny of $150 from Michael Sullivan of Dracut. Both men work on the farm of Gen. Parker. Early last Sunday morning, it is claimed, the defendant extracted $150 in United States currency from the pocket of Sullivan's overalls. Sunday afternoon he returned 50 cents but refused to turn over the remaining dollar. He admitted taking the money and on the promise that he would make restitution and pay the costs of the court, a suspended sentence of two months in jail was imposed.

When the case of Alphonse Blouin, charged with larceny of $60 from Eugene Bonin, was called on for continuance, the defendant's wife informed Judge Enright that she depended wholly upon her husband for support and was not able to work out herself. With the understanding that Blouin find work and pay back the money he stole, he was given a suspended sentence of three months in jail.

His Request Granted
When Fred Sweaney was about to be dismissed as a suspicious person, he requested to be sent away as he had been very unfortunate in his search for work and was not able to

Should Reach Destination Tonight—Final Statement of Principles Involved
WASHINGTON, July 22.—The new American note to Germany is on its way to Berlin. It cleared from Washington over the telegraph wires during the night and today was being flashed over the cables to London and thence to Copenhagen, where it goes over land wires again to the German foreign office. It should reach its destination tonight or early tomorrow.

Text Tomorrow Night
Secretary Lansing announced that the text of the note would be given out here Friday afternoon for publication in morning papers of Saturday.

Concerning future conduct of German submarines the note does not necessarily call for an answer, as it announces the intention of the United States to regard any further violation of international law resulting in the loss of American lives as unfriendly.

On the other hand, the American demands for disavowal of any intention to sink the Lusitania and the request for reparation are renewed in the new note and very likely those, with other points, such as the willingness of the United States to act as an intermediary.

Go any farther. A complaint of vagrancy was made against him and he was committed to the state farm. A husband and wife were arraigned on continuance for intoxication. The wife was sentenced to the state farm. As three children are depending on the man for support, he was given a suspended sentence of five months in the house of correction. Michael Mown was sent to jail for three months after pleading guilty to a third offense of drunkenness.

Had a Few Words
Stanley Pickos was found guilty of assault and battery upon Frank Wroblewski and ordered to pay a fine of $12. The assault occurred on July 15 after some trouble between Pickos and the complainant's wife. It was claimed by the government that Pickos struck Wroblewski several times, causing a severe wound. Benjamin J. Moloney for the government and Daniel J. Donahue for the defendant.

WORK OF DEPARTMENTS AND CITY HALL NEWS

Inquiries Concerning Contagious Hospital—Plans for Memorial Building Still in the Air

The need of a contagious hospital in Lowell was again demonstrated this morning when a local party telephoned to the board of health office at city hall, inquiring if the city had a sanatorium for tuberculosis patients. The clerk of the department informed the party at the other end of the line that the city did not maintain an institution for contagious diseases, but provision could be made for the removal of a tuberculosis patient to the Eastland sanatorium or some other state institution of a like nature.

The clerk also informed the party that tuberculosis clinics were being held at city hall every Tuesday afternoon and Thursday evening with Dr. Finnegan in charge, while Miss Mulvey, a graduated nurse, makes visits to the homes. The writer was informed that the average number of patients at the tuberculosis dispensary was about two.

Memorial Building
It is very probable that the rebuilding of the gutted Memorial building will not be finished before the bad weather sets in, for the plans are not yet ready. The architect who is drafting the plans had promised to have a conference of the municipal council this week, but Commissioner Putnam informed the writer this morning that the said plans are still to come. He said he saw the architect yesterday and the latter informed him he would have everything in shape very soon.

As soon as the plans are submitted to the city council, the municipal council will be called and bids will be called for. When the bids are received they will be passed upon by the council at a regular meeting and then matters will be rushed long. Mr. Putnam hopes to have the conference tomorrow. The arrangements, according to present arrangements, will build the floors in the basement and second story of the building. They will also paint the ceilings and walls, but all other work will be given out by contract.

New High School
The city engineers are about to start surveying the proposed land for the new high school in Kirk street, and as soon as they have completed their work notices will be sent out to the owners, ordering them to vacate within two months after receipt of the notice. It is proposed to have a competent architect draw the plans for the half million dollar building, but not before the superintendent of schools has submitted his report as to the number of rooms wanted in the school, etc.

Band Concert
Mayor D. J. Murphy has arranged for a band concert on the South common Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. It will be the second in the series of civic concerts. The program will be by the Lowell Cadet band. The mayor stated this morning there will be 10 more concerts, the cost of which will be paid by the special appropriation of $1000 for band concerts and this will include a monster concert on the South common on Christmas eve.

Will Save Trees
It has been decided to save the three elm trees opposite St. Anne's church in Merrimack street, and, accordingly, the roots of the trees will not be cut as was first intended, but they will be covered with tar. It was first believed that the roots would have to be cut on account of the laying of the granite sidewalk, but several requests were received, asking that the lives of the trees be spared.

Will Hold Conference
The members of the Trades and Labor council have asked for a conference with the municipal council, and this will take place at city hall Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. It is believed the conference will have to do with the proposed purchase of automobiles, the approximate cost of the alterations will be $1500.

Will Alter Building
Carem Kell was granted a permit this morning for alterations to his building numbered 171-173 Fletcher street. The roof will be squared off in order to make three stories and when finished the building will contain six five-room tenements with baths. The approximate cost of the alterations will be $1500.

The Weekly Payroll
The payroll for this week at city hall amounts to $19,864.20.

REVENUES INADEQUATE

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The interstate commerce commission decided today that the revenues of the principal express companies of the United States are inadequate and modified its former orders to provide additional income.

On shipments of more than 100 pounds the readjustment will not make any change. Substantially no commodity rates will be readjusted. In all events any charged rates will, with few exceptions, be substantially lower than those prevailing when the commission established the zone system in February, 1914.

By this means the express companies are expected to increase their gross revenues about 3.56 per cent.

The commission declined to change the basis of rates in zone No. 1, the territory east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio rivers.

Agreement Reached to End Strike at Bridgeport, Says Report

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 22.—John A. Johnston, vice president of the Structural Iron Workers, today announced that he had been advised by J. F. Keppeler, vice president of the International Association of Machinists, that a "written agreement" which would settle the strike of the machinists in the plants of the Remington Arms & Ammunition Co. and various sub-contractors had been reached. According to Mr. Johnston, the vice president of the machinists telephoned him from New York and requested that Thomas J. Savage, member of the general executive board of the machinists, be asked not to contradict any more statements regarding the settlement. Mr. Savage denied last night that he knew anything of a settlement after Mr. Keppeler had announced that the strike had been declared off and the men would go back to work Monday.

Mr. Johnston said Mr. Keppeler would return to Bridgeport with the written agreement this afternoon. Mr. Johnston said he also understood that the girls who walked out at the Union Metallic Cartridge plant of the Remington Co. had voted to return to work having been promised an increase of about 50 cents a day in their wages.

TO SUPPORT GEN. HUERTA

President Cabrera of Guatemala Pledged Aid to Dictator Last February

GALVESTON, Tex., July 22.—Support from President Cabrera of Guatemala for the plans of Gen. Huerta and associates for re-establishing control of affairs in Mexico, was pledged as early as last February, according to a letter from Merida, Mex., copies of which were received here today. This publication prints what purports to be a letter from Cabrera to Huerta, in one of these letters Cabrera is quoted as saying:

"It does not appear difficult to me to congregate the revolutionary elements of General Villa with the military elements so worthily personified in you. As ruler and in my private capacity, you may count on my aid in any possible way to you to tranquility Mexico. I am sure you will meet no opposition in this great business."

Another Cabrera letter addressed to General Huerta at Los Angeles, after outlining offers of assistance similar to the foregoing, says:

"Permit me to suggest that a number of German officers be named as instructors, as I have them here, and which, in my case, were very effective in establishing a nucleus of an army."

The paper also publishes a letter from General Huerta, dated New York, April 12, and addressed to Estanol, which says:

"While I was in Europe, I was in active correspondence with the president of Guatemala, who seems disposed to aid our cause."

The Merida newspaper gives no explanation of how it came into possession of the correspondence.

THE LITTLE ONES

Boys and Girls are Enjoying the Playground Season

The playground season is now on in full swing and the next few months promises to be a very busy period for children and instructors alike. The attendance of children at the various playgrounds has been even greater than last year and the everyday sessions in which the children are put through all sorts of healthful and invigorating exercises by competent instructors are looked forward to by the kiddies with gleeful anticipation.

The one dispiriting fact in connection with the system, however, is the shortage of instructors, there being urgent need for one or two more at every playground in the city. As a result of this shortage, the force at present engaged is kept busy most of the time looking after the safety of the children and much important work is left undone.

Patrick J. Reynolds, head supervisor of the playground system is to be congratulated on the work thus far accomplished, and the spirit of co-operation shown by the instructors, members of the park commission and even private citizens towards furthering the system is to be commended.

A little over a week ago members of the park commission made a trip of inspection to the various playgrounds, and at a meeting held by the supervisors this week, Harvey J. Greene, speaking for the commission, expressed complete satisfaction with the work accomplished.

The North common playground was visited by a Sun reporter this morning, and the visit proved thoroughly enjoyable. There were about 200 children of various ages on the playground, and needless to state they were enjoying themselves to their hearts' content. The boys under the direction of Mr. Reynolds held full sway over the baseball diamond, while the girls in charge of Miss Mary Joyce and her assistants, were located in groups on the green.

Baseball, running, jumping, hurdlings and in fact every kind of field sport imaginable were being conducted in the boys' department and Mr. Reynolds was indeed a busy man. First he was called upon to settle a dispute in the baseball game, and then he was to start a sprint race between three youngsters, who had been claiming the supremacy of the district for the past two weeks in short distance events. The pole vaulting contests and hurdlings then took up his attention, and he did not have a single minute to waste until 10 o'clock when time was called and the youngsters were told to make ready to go to the baths in Elliot street.

Fully 60 youths made the trip to the shower baths, and here they had the time of their lives. The baths are open to the North common boys on Tuesday and Thursday mornings of each week, and Tuesday and Friday afternoons are set apart for the girls of the district.

In Maypole Dance

The girls on the North common were being put through a maypole dance when the writer happened along, by Miss Joyce, and it could plainly be seen that they were heart and soul in the work, for when one of the children made a mistake the others offered advice, and when the same child happened to make the same mistake a few minutes afterward, she got the cheering of her life from her playmates and one of them was overheard to remark, "Nobody home!" The children after a few attempts went through the various evolutions of this dance in faultless manner, and when they had finished a beautiful bell had been woven by the ribbons on the pole. After the dance, the children scattered in groups, and were taken in charge by Miss Joyce's assistants.

The South common was later visited and here the same spirit of enjoyment among the children was found. Eugene C. Donovan, a former high school athlete was in charge of the field sports, and the girls' departments were presided over by efficient young lady instructors.

The closing of the playgrounds will take place some time in September, and Mr. Reynolds and his corps of assistants are planning to make the event one to long be remembered by all who attend. Championship ball games will be played on that day, track events for the junior champions of the city, and the girls will have a pleasing part in the program.

The following young people are in charge of the children on the various playgrounds throughout the city: North common, Patrick J. Reynolds, head supervisor; Miss Mary Joyce, assistant supervisor; Misses Anna L. McNabb, Ethel Lombard, Helen Hickey, Margaret Flynn and Mary Sullivan, assistants. South common: Eugene C. Donovan, male supervisor; Miss Kathleen Tobin, female supervisor; Misses Mary Carroll, Marion Carey and May Mansfield, assistants. Textile school playground, Frank Corbett, supervisor. Aiken street playground, Clarence Cunningham, supervisor; Miss Gladys McElloin, assistant supervisor; Miss Mahoney, assistant. Patco street playground, Miss White, supervisor; Miss Marion Rosetta, assistant. Fayette street school, Miss Sarah Myers, Bartlett playground, Miss Mary Heardon.

RUSH SHIP BUILDING

ACTIVITY GREATER IN THE UNITED STATES THAN FOR SEVERAL YEARS

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Ship building activity, due to the heavy demand for vessels since the European war began is greater in the United States than it has been for several years. More steel vessels were being built or were under contract July 1 than at any time in any year since 1901, and there was a greater tonnage of wooden vessels building than since 1907. Department of commerce statistics issued today show 125 vessels were building July 1. Sixty-five were steel ships aggregating 238,420 tons, and sixty were wooden vessels totalling 285,701.

PRETTY DESIGNS IN FASHIONABLE SILK SKIRTS;
3-PIECE TUCKED SKIRT VERY NEAT AND ATTRACTIVE

No skirt is prettier for the fashionable than this one laid in three wide tucks at the lower edge. In the picture, it is made of foulard and the over-bodice is of the same material, while the blouse beneath is of silk crepe, not crepe de chine, a little heavier sort, more lustrous and still washable. The foulard shows a satin finish and makes an exceedingly handsome costume. The blouse is made double breasted at the front to suggest the waistcoat idea and with the bishop sleeves that always are dainty and pretty. At the back there is a sash. The foulard with the crepe makes a very handsome costume and altogether fashionable and desirable, but there are other materials that would be good.

MILLS WILL RUN

None Will Close for Vacation Week in New Bedford

NEW BEDFORD, July 22.—After conferring with each other, all the manufacturers have decided to run their mills during the first week in August, regardless of the action of the labor unions in designating it as vacation week. A number of the manufacturers have taken a vote of the operatives in their plants, and they say they find that not more than 50 per cent. of the workers want a vacation, and of these only about one-third want the first week in August. Many of the other 50 per cent. have already taken their vacation.

The mill men are counting on the great majority of the operatives reporting for work as usual on Aug. 2, when the union's vacation week begins. Notwithstanding the vote of the unions as announced by the union officials, the manufacturers refuse to believe that any large percentage of the workers are much in favor of the general vacation plan. In one mill it is stated that the sentiment for the union's proposition was confined almost entirely to the weave room.

A complicating factor in the situation is the fact that many of the union men were under a misapprehension

when they voted to take the vacation regardless of the refusal of the manufacturers to grant it. In some way or other they had received the impression that the manufacturers, while not able to close their mills voluntarily because thereby they could not keep up their cloth and yarn deliveries on contracts in hand, were not strongly averse to the operatives taking the vacation on their own responsibility because that would be in the nature of a strike and the manufacturers would be protected in their contracts by the strike clauses usually embodied in them.

"That idea of the union officials was absolutely groundless," said a manufacturer yesterday. "I have talked about this vacation week with many of the other treasurers and they are all strongly opposed to it. It will cost the mills, the operatives, and the businessmen of the city hundreds of thousands of dollars. The customers of the mills will lose heavily by it in delayed deliveries on fabrics which they should have at the earliest possible date to catch the seasonal demand. In this mill the operatives were asked whether they wanted the first week in August. Less than a fifth wanted the week designated by the unions. Those who want a vacation can have it as nearly as possible at the time they chose."

HATS OFF TO UNCLE TOM

BACHELOR BEGS JUDGE FOR CHILD HE REARED—CARED FOR BABY TWO YEARS

PASSAIC, N. J., July 22.—Thomas Miller, an unconfirmed bachelor of 32, living at 118 Second street, gave Judge Thomas F. Costello what he called several good reasons why he refused to surrender the custody of his four-year-old niece, Francesca Albina Santax, to her father, Joseph Santax of Athens. The child's parents became estranged when she was 6 months old. She was left motherless at 2, and neighbors complained that she was allowed to toddle, uncared for, around the streets. Miller found her and took her in. "If you please, Your Honor, I've done my best for this little girl," said the young bachelor. "For two years I've washed, dressed and fed her. I've ironed her clothes, too. I'm not ashamed to say, I have a contract to build a house in Delaware, and every day I take Frances with me. She plays near me in the fresh air while I work, and is growing strong and healthy. I love her, judge, and I know she loves me. A dozen of Miller's neighbors said the young man told the truth, and Mrs. Sadie Ranzenhoffer, a lawyer, volunteered to defend without fees his claim as the little girl's guardian. Judge Costello will give his decision

AS BOY FOR FIVE YEARS

PUFFER GIRL ARRESTED AT NEW HAVEN—FORCED INTO SKIRTS, SHE SAYS LIFE LOSES CHARM

NEW HAVEN, July 22.—After five years of roaming about the country and Europe as a boy, Edna Puffer, the 15-year-old girl arrested in the railroad yards late Tuesday night just as she was about to hop a freight to New York, was ruthlessly thrust back into petticoats yesterday afternoon and an effort will be made to find some one who will give her a job. Edna says that the charm of life has been broken, now that she has to wear feminine attire, and she doesn't know whether she will ever submit to the wretchedness again.

Convinced that Franklin Shaw, the sailor who was arrested in her company, was unaware of his companion's sex, although he had been with her for nearly three months, Judge John R. Booth yesterday in the city court continued both their cases until today, when Miss Puffer will make her first public appearance as a woman in five years.

The girl left Newport News three months ago on a cattle boat for London on which she was employed as a potato peeler. She met Shaw at that time and made him her companion. Shaw was one of the boat's crew. After landing in London she and Shaw went to France and Holland and then returned to this side on the same boat, landing at Montreal. They were on their way from Montreal to Newport News by way of the summer route when arrested here for vagrancy. The Puffer girl was born in Shelton, Pa., and following a whipping at the hands of an aunt five years ago she ran away, but found it hard to get work. Clipping off an abundance of hair and donning men's clothing, she later discovered it was fairly easy to pick up odd jobs and up to Tuesday night successfully passed as a boy. The girl claims to have Indian, negro and English blood in her veins.

WAR MUNITIONS ON SHIP

INSPECTION OF CARGO ABOARD SCHOONER SHOWS BOXES WITH GUNS MADE IN 1855

ABERDEEN, Wash., July 22.—Inspection of the war munitions aboard the schooner Annie Larsen, now being held here by the customs officials, shows that the most modern Springfield rifle the shipment contains are of 1855 and that many of the boxes are filled with guns made in 1855. Others of the guns show much use.

The Annie Larsen put into port here recently after having sailed from San Diego, Cal., on an indefinite course under direction of a super cargo. Government officials detained her upon arrival.

MALONE WON HIS GAME

Brought Home Winning Run in 11th Inning of the Lowell- Lawrence Police Game

Police ball players. Like actors, don't eat, or else they don't eat regularly, for while the rest of the world was having noon luncheon yesterday the "Gleeves" were out at Spalding park, playing against their brethren from down river.

Unlike underdarkers, the coppers are big. The olders, the big ones, bingle to left and Duhamel scored five when he got away with a big tallies and it was after two were out the fun started, at that. With Kennedy and Lynch gone Minoney goes around and old Boy Jack comes ovan get a big hand as he stepped to the plate. Bishop sunk the ball into

The superior officers, scouts and traffic cops were conspicuous by their absence. Patrolman Al. Conney, a member of the team is away on his wedding tour but was represented by a "pumpkin-in-law," an old time North common fan.

Patrolman Jack Donovan, who holds the dignified office of president of the Police league, did not appear in the lineup at the start but got into the game in the fifth when Quintan retired.

The genial presence of the E.A. Shea was for several seasons was one of the league umpires, was greatly missed. John Neeson, the Then Fanning who had struck out twice pulled off a big surprise by hitting a grounder to Dunamel who was at short and the ball was sent to Bishop then made a wild pitch ar Donovan sprinted home like the wind and scored days in Elkhart. McNeill fanned.

In the seventh Maloney fanned young and Bishop and took a fly from Willie Brown. In the eighth half, Sharkey hit to right field and should have had two bases but he stopped at first.

Dunamel in the eighth sent a fly to Kelly. Murray hit by Kennedy for a single. A wild pitch advanced him to short. Murray then hit a heavy sent Murray to third. But "Sargeant" O'Brien, the alleged ring man, went out on strikes and Maloney went out on strikes. Lovell was sent in the eighth.

Hewitt opened the ninth with a clean hit to left. Maloney made a chance for a double play by the Tom Whinkler, the police authority on all sporting events, and as infallible as the weather, was on hand and rooted for the home team.

Although the attendance was not such as to crowd the diamond, nevertheless, ground rules were made, for

It was the home team that was at fault for the delay in starting the fray.

Murray opened the game for Lawrence with a fly ball of second that Dan Lynch took, almost colliding with Fanning in the effort. Maloney side-stepped Ahearn's sizzler across the mound and got a safety. He got another shot off before the third ball, but his play made a beautiful throw and snuffed him at second.

O'Brien plunked the ball to right field where Randow McNulty was on the ground. Duhamel summed his arm and repulsed the runner. After an unmeasured Vadin or him hit Murray got his third hit, a knock that Dan Lynch succeeded in keeping down but he couldn't recover from the fanned. Hewitt died at first.

Lowell presented the top of the 10th, and Bishop fanned three of them. Kelly, Sharkey & Kenney.

The visitors went out in quick succession in the fifth, while Lowell actually scored.

With two out Kelly set a base on balls and stole second. Then Sharkey hit O'Brien, but Wadlin dropped the throw at first base, which ended third in the play, tried to get home on the error, but Wadlin recovered the ball and threw him out at the plate.

The visitors took a big leg in the sixth with one run and it was "See You," O'Brien, the alleged "Oak Leaf" ringer who produced the hit that scored the run. Wadlin opened with a single but was forced at second on Duhamel's grounder to McNulty. Murray had a single and then Ahearn fled to Maloney. But when Ahearn came across with a timely

ROOSEVELT ASKS ACTION

PLAYS "PROFESSIONAL PACIFISTS"—
—SHOULD RAISE BOYS TO BE SOLDIERS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—Theodore Roosevelt delivered two addresses yesterday at the Panama-Pacific exposition, one vigorous in tone on military preparations and the other, a brief personal talk to the "men on the line," soldiers, sailors and marines, at the Enlisted Men's club. He held both willingness and ability to be soldiers to be desirable attributes of good citizens. He told the enlisted men "a man afraid to fight is not fit to vote," and "a mother who is not willing to raise her boy to be a soldier, is not fit for citizenship."

"War and Peace"
Before the address at the clubhouse, he planted a peace tree.
"War and Peace" was the topic of Col. Roosevelt's address to an immense audience gathered in the court of the universe.
Col. Roosevelt was escorted from his hotel by a squadron of the first cavalry, by various military and police officials. A presidential salute of 21 guns was given him by warships in the harbor. He was introduced by Gov. Hiram W. Johnson of California, his running-mate for the presidency on the progressive ticket in 1912.

For Universal Military Service
"I firmly believe that there should be universal military service for our young men on the Swiss model," said the former president at one point in his speech.

At another, referring to the price which Belgium had paid because of her unpreparedness, he said:

"Some day or other it may well be that we shall have to pay, on a far greater scale, the same price for security by the same means, and it is such should be the case, remember, my fellow-countrymen, that, whereas the case of the Belgians excited warm sympathy, our misfortunes would excite nothing but scorn and contempt. For a rich, powerful, boastful people invites the ridicule of all mankind if, whether from sheer silliness and shortsightedness or from soft timidity, or from gross and greedy devotion to the material benefits of the moment, it fails to prepare itself to defend its own rights with its own strength."

Col. Roosevelt spoke derisively of "eloquence as a substitute for action," and in his arraignment of those who stood in the way of preparedness for war, he said the "professional pacifists, the peace at any price, the resistance universalists, the people are seeking to reduce this country to a state of impotence to which all China sank."

"The average Chinaman took the view that China was too proud to fight, and in practice made evident its hearty approval of the sentiments of that subject pacifist song, 'I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be a Soldier,' a song which should have as a companion piece one entitled 'I Didn't Raise My Girl to Be a Mother,' approval of which, of course, deprives any men or women of all right of kinship with the soldiers and with the mothers and wives of the soldiers whose valor and services we commemorate on the Fourth of July and on Memorial day; a song the singing of which seems incredible to every man and woman capable of being stirred to joy and generous enthusiasm by the tremendous surge of Julia Ward Howe's 'Battle Hymn of the Republic.' China has steadily refused to prepare for war. Accordingly, China has had province after province looted off her until one-half of her territory is now under Japanese, Russian, English and French control."

"In addition, I firmly believe that there should be universal military service for our young men on the Swiss model. In Switzerland the boys are trained for their last few years in the public schools, and after they graduate from the public schools they serve with the army for four or six months and then for eight or ten days every year for the next ten years. This training and service, so far from hampering the Swiss or Switzerland industrially, has added enormously to the industrial efficiency, both of the individuals and of the nation, and to their social efficiency also."

"Finally and most important let us remember that there can be no efficient preparedness against war unless we prepare our own souls. If we become soft and flabby physically and morally, we shall fail. No nation ever amounted to anything if its population was composed of pacifists and patrons, if its sons did not have the fighting edge, if its women did not feel as the mothers of Washington's Continentals felt as the mothers of the men who followed Grant and Lee felt; men who are not ready to fight for the right are not fit to live in a free democracy. The only women fit to be wives and mothers in a free republic are those who feel that their sons are not sons of theirs unless when their country calls their souls are eager and their feet jubilant to answer the mighty trumpet note which announces that the hearts of men are being sifted out before the judgment seat."

AUTOMOBILE SKIDDED

WET PAVEMENTS IN MOODY ST. RESPONSIBLE FOR AUTO'S HIGH JINKS—NO CASUALTIES

An automobile owned and driven by Joseph Beaudoin of 42 Tucker street, skidded on the wet pavement in Moody street near the corner of Cabot street shortly after 5 o'clock this morning, and although it crashed into another auto and an ice wagon, no serious damage was caused.
The machine first struck Harry Pitt's supply car, and then struck an ice wagon owned by the Daniel Gage Ice Co. The only damage caused was a twisted mud guard on Mr. Beaudoin's car, this being caused by coming in contact with the ice wagon.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE

RUNAWAY HORSE COLLIDED WITH CARRIAGE CONTAINING BABY—WOMAN SLIGHTLY INJURED

Although the carriage containing Baby Shaw, child of William Shaw, of Tewksbury, was demolished when struck by a runaway horse in Tewksbury last evening, the child was uninjured. The father of the child who was wheeling the carriage at the time of the accident, was slightly injured, while Mrs. William Confield of 43 Lincoln street, was also struck and she received several bruises, which were later treated by her physician.

The horse is the property of Constantine Bivalas of 62 Gorham street, this city, and was hitched to a fruit wagon. It was left standing in Rogers street, just over the Lowell line, when suddenly it started at breakneck speed toward Tewksbury. Shortly after striking the above named people, the horse was brought to a stop.

KING ALBERT DEMOCRAT

BOSTON EDITOR SAYS BELGIAN WAS FIRST TO SAY "MY FELLOW-CITIZENS"

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 22.—Albert King of the Belgians, while making the rounds with Washington newspapermen when a prince, caught a spirit of democracy that may yet affect nations, Joseph Mitchell Chapple of Boston, a newspaper editor, said last night in an address on "The Joy and Value of Making Acquaintances" at the annual banquet of the International Association of Rotary clubs.
"When the guns sounded at Liege and flashed to the world the news of invasion and destruction," he said, "the young prince issued a proclamation in phrasing that has never been used by kings, ancient or modern. It began, 'My fellow-citizens.'"

"The impact with democracy has ripened into action, and on the banks of the river Yser today stands the solitary figure of the king who, I believe, will be ready to hand back his scepter to his people and become the father of the first new republic in the new United States of Europe."

Yesterday's sessions of the Rotary clubs convention was devoted to sectional meetings.

BOLERO FROCKS ONE OF THE MOST INTERESTING FEATURES FOR CHILDREN

Bolero frocks make one of the very latest and most interesting features of fashion. They are charming and becoming to childish figures and are altogether most attractive. This one can be treated in a number of ways. It consists of a short-waisted body portion to which the straight skirt is attached and a sleeveless jacket. Here, the jacket matches the rest of the frock, but it would be quite as fashionable to make it of a different material and a bright colored taffeta would be charming over a white dress or over a flowered organza, or, colored linen could be used over a cotton crepe or voile. Rose color, blue and certain yellow shades

ORDERED INTO INTERIOR

WOMEN AND CHILDREN REFUSED TO OBEY TURKISH OFFICERS—FIERCE STRUGGLE

PARIS, July 22, 12.15 a. m.—A Havas despatch from Athens says: "Turkish military authorities, according to advices received from Vural, a port in Smyrna on the Gulf of Smyrna) have ordered all Christian women and children to leave the town and go into the interior. Many of the residents refused to obey the order, and a fierce struggle followed, in which many were victims."
"The Greek government has received from the Porte no reply to representations regarding the persecution of Greeks in Turkish territory. The delay is attributed to the difficulties of communication by telegraph."

"Some of the newspapers are urging the government to assume an energetic policy in dealing with Turkey."

AMUSEMENT NOTES

CANOBIE LAKE PARK
Words of enthusiastic praise and commendation are heard on all sides from the patrons of Canobie Lake park this week when the open-air theatre is offering one of the most extraordinary programs of advanced vaudeville and pictures ever known at a summer park theatre. Headed by the sensational performance of the Twelve Daytons in an acrobatic act that makes the patrons gasp with astonished excitement, the bill gathers an impetus that carries it to a most successful conclusion. The act is a whirlwind of action from start to finish and at times all twelve of the clever performers are in action at the same time making the stage a maze of animation and startling feats.

Madame Paluchaud and Her Four Venetian Beauties present a vocal and repulsive offering that for artistry and sublime beauty could not be excelled. In pictures the comedian of the day is Charlie Chaplin but in stagecraft the honors must be passed to Eddie Dowling, whose original funnysims have already become known to the theatregoers in this city, thousands having enjoyed him during the engagement of Roman's Musical Revue and again at the head of his own company. Eddie Dowling has arranged an original act of his own that fairly bubbles with good humor and mirth from start to finish.

Motion pictures have not been left out of the program either for the management has included a selected few that will add just that variety and interest that the patrons would desire.

THEATRE VOYONS
Well the Irish people of Lowell have proved that they are patriotic as the crowds at the Voyons the first three days of this week have shown the management that they appreciate his efforts to get something to please them. For the last half of the week another Irish feature based on the present war entitled "It's a Long Way to Tipperary." Be sure and see this masterpiece of Irish drama. If you have a drop of Irish blood in your veins come and applaud the Irish heroes in the trenches at the present time. Remember the show lasts over two hours as there are six other reels besides the feature. Any one not satisfied can have his money back by saying so at the box office.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
William Faversham, the most commanding figure on the American stage today will appear in the photodrama, "The Right of Way," at the B. F. Keith theatre, the final three days of the present week, beginning this afternoon. It is such a story as occurs but once in a decade, perhaps more, written by one of the few masters of the English language, and a man of lofty conception. It is a story of the kind that only semi-occasionally, even in these days, finds its way onto the life picture screen, and well it is that the leading character is portrayed by such a finished artist as William Faversham.

"The Right of Way" is one of the six best sellers, but it was that because of superior merit, and not because it dealt with a sensational and sensational phase of life. It will interest everyone who sees it, and its appeal to the innate purity of all will make itself manifest. It is the story of a man who repays a debt, who believes in an eye for such a swelling piece of conception. In addition to this masterpiece there will be shown four shorter pictures.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Two splendidly acted five act photoplays are the headlines on the program of the Merrimack Square theatre for today, Friday and Saturday. "Kilmeny" is the title of the five act Paramount picture. The play concerns itself with the eventful life of a woodland sprite of a girl who has spent all of her early life with the gypsies. The romance of the wandering life is revealed in this well staged picture. The many scenes are full of natural beauty. Gypsy camps by mountain pools, the long white road flowing through splendid canyons into the sunset, and other beautiful settings delight the eye. Miss Lenore Ulrich, the star of "The Bird of Paradise" is seen in the leading role of "Kilmeny." She is supported by a very strong cast of celebrated actors, among whom appears Gordon Griffith, the popular boy star. "Fine Feathers" is the other five act picture play to be seen at this comfortable theatre during these next three days. The plot of this play is centered about a woman's vanity and a man's weakness. To satisfy his wife's inordinate desire for fine clothes, the husband commits a breach of duty which results in terrible consequences. The scene of the mighty dam breaking and the terrible sweep of water will fascinate everyone who sees it. Besides these two wonderful numbers the program for today and the next two days also includes several very amusing comedies with some of the most celebrated fun-makers.

Although the strike of machinists at the new plant of the Remington Arms and Ammunition company, and which twenty or more international labor leaders gathered at Bridgeport, Conn., counted upon to start a general conflagration, did not take place, it was admitted that powerful efforts were at work trying to stir up trouble. John A. Johnston, international vice president of the Iron Workers' union, and J. J. Keppler, vice president of the machinists, were on hand to inaugurate the big strike. All of Bridgeport's available policemen were on duty at the plant. Johnston (on left) and Keppler are shown in the accompanying illustration; also a scene outside the Remington factory.

AERIAL TORPEDO BOAT NAVY OFFENDERS

Plan for Attack on Ships in Harbors Projected in Patents Issued to Rear Admiral Fiske

WASHINGTON, July 22.—An aerial torpedo boat for attack on ships in harbors is projected in patents just issued. It was learned today that Rear Admiral Fiske, now attached to the navy war college, formerly aid for operations to Secretary Daniels.

The plan contemplates equipping a monster aeroplane, similar to a number now under construction in this country for the British government, with a Whitehead torpedo of regulation size.

Swooping down at a distance of five miles from the object of attack, the aircraft would drop its deadly passenger into the water just as it would have been launched from a destroyer. The impact sets the torpedo's machinery in motion, and it is off at a speed of more than 40 knots an hour toward the enemy ship.

Admiral Fiske believes that the flying torpedo boat would make it possible to attack a fleet even within a landlocked harbor. The range of the newest navy torpedoes is 10,000 yards, but even the older type will be effective at 7,000 yards.

Carried on a huge aeroplane the 2,000 pound weapon could be taken over harbor defenses at an altitude safe from gun fire. Once over the bay, the machine would glide to within ten or 20 feet of the water, the torpedo runners would be set and it would be

Shipboard Discipline Bringing Satisfactory Results, Says Daniels

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Shipboard discipline on specially designated vessels as a substitute for the old disciplinary barracks for youthful navy offenders is bringing most satisfactory results, Secretary Daniels announced today. Other men who have served a part of their sentences ashore also are sent to these ships and drills and instruction are substituted for ordinary forms of prison labor.

A boat's crew from the disciplinary ship Topinka at the Portsmouth yard, the statement says, won the silver trophy offered by the Portsmouth Yacht club at the last Fourth of July regatta, competing against entries from the cruiser Montana, gunboats Paducah and Tacoma and other ships. Officers ascribed the victory to the careful training in all branches of sailor work given "detentioners" on the ship. Their given by the academy and vocational training calculated to increase their efficiency when returned to duty. During sentence they are not allowed shore liberty, but those who show proficiency are restored to duty on probation on regular liberty and pay of their rating. At the end of two months' probation, as a rule, it is added, they are discharged and sent to sea.

"This feature," the statement continues, "from results obtained appears to satisfy the ends of discipline and also saves to the service a number of men who in a moment of thoughtlessness absent themselves from the naval service without fully realizing the consequences of their actions."

Two More Strikers Killed

LOWELL TRIMS LYNN IN FIRST GAME, 4 TO 3

Great Crowd Saw Kelchner's
Colts Come Out on Top in Opening Contest

Long Louie Pieper and his pennant aspirants from Lynn who yesterday put a puncture in Lowell's long list of victories "under new management" were the attraction at Spaulding park this afternoon, a double-header.

The Lynn team came here full of pep and confidence for they have a strange hold on a place in the first division and already have visions of the pennant flying from the flag pole at Ocean park. They're out for the pennant and the way that they have been going for the past few weeks together with the fact that Lawrence best article of base ball in the little old league for the past few weeks, and hence a large and enthusiastic crowd went out to Spaulding park, the fact that the stores are closed today helping materially to swell the attendance.

The Lynn team is always a good drawing card irrespective of its playing ability, for the fans like to ride Pieper the elongated manager of the outfit, who eats up all the time and to study the classic features of "Smiling" Mickey Lynch, the marble-faced short stop, who has been putting up the best in handling out hot shot to everybody from the umpire down. Then there is Jack Halstein who held down first base for Lowell for a while, but who was replaced by Orway, who made a hit when with the Lowell team some few seasons ago but who now is good enough to play for the Kelchner's.

Porter, Lynn's celebrated speed merchant, fanned out. Gleason was fortunate and drew a pass, but was forced at second a moment later when Haight hit a grounder to Dee. Haight also went out at second on Tierney's grounder to Dee.

Lowell came across with one run in the first. Sweeney was first man up and he hit to the left field fence for a two bagger. Fahy drew a base on balls. The batting order was changed prior to the game and Greenhalge was the next man up. Pieper and Lynch opened up simultaneously on Aubrey when he missed a strike on Greenhalge. "Snubber" struck out while Sweeney stole third on the third strike. Barrows flied out to deep right field, getting Sweeney home. Fahy attempted to steal second and was an easy out.

Score: Lowell 2, Lynn 0.

Second Inning
Quick work put Lynn away rapidly in the second. O'neill hit to Houser and died at first. Big Jack Halstein struck out. Orway hit to Bowcock and was out at first.

Lowell added another run in the second on a squeeze play. Ahearne opened up with a fly to Tierney. Estes was seen slumping in his hitting sur-prise the fans by making a three-bagger over Porter's head in right field. The squeeze followed, Dee bunting to Williams and Estes getting to the plate. Ahearne's first in safety. More remarks from Pieper and Lynch about Aubrey's decision at the plate. Bowcock flied out to Porter and Houser fanned.

Score: Lowell 2, Lynn 0.

Third Inning
In the third, Lynch drew a base on balls and cheered the rag all the way. Williams hit to Fahy and Mike was forced at second. Porter fanned for the second time. Gleason popped a fly to Dee and closed the inning. Sweeney hit over Williams' head for a single. Fahy sent him to second with a sacrifice. Greenhalge struck out for the second time. Barrows hit a grounder to Gleason and was thrown out at first.

Score: Lowell 2, Lynn 0.

Fourth Inning
Gill edge fielding put Lynn away in one, two, three order in the fourth. Fahy made a beautiful stop of Haight's grounder and threw him out at first. Tierney hit to Houser and went out at first. O'neill sent a long grounder to Dee; Estes got the ball on the bounce but held it and he was out.

Ahearne opened the last half of the fourth with a pretty single to left but he never got beyond the first station. Estes tried to sacrifice but he struck out. Dee flied out to Orway. Bowcock sent his second fly out to Porter. Lowell 2, Lynn 0.

Fifth Inning
Fahey was there again in the fifth and robbed Mike Lynch of a hit. Halstein was the first man up and he hit a line drive to Bowcock and was out. The best Orway could do was a grounder to Houser and he was the second man out. Then Mike hit over third base and Fahy made the third out.

Lowell failed to score in the fifth. Houser sent a fly out to Porter in deep right field. Sweeney, who had made two hits in twice up, was given his base on balls. Fahy hit to Orway, forcing Sweeney at second. Greenhalge flied out to Orway.

Lowell 2, Lynn 0.

Sixth Inning
Lynn did everything but score in the sixth and again it was Fahy who choked off the run. Pieper didn't get out on the coach line in this inning and George Donnelly in the grandstand accused him of laying down. Then followed an amusing exchange of compliments between Donnelly and Pieper. Williams struck out. Up to this time Lynn hadn't hit safely and Porter came across with a single to center field. Gleason hit to Bowcock and went out at first while Porter reached second, the first man to reach second for Lynn during the game. Porter stole third. Haight hit a grounder which Fahy took back of third base and threw him out at first.

Barrows got as far as second in the sixth on a base on balls, followed by Ahearne's sacrifice. Estes struck out. Dee came near making a pretty single but Williams shoved out his mitt and made a one-hundred catch of the ball.

Lowell 2, Lynn 0.

Seventh Inning
For the third time Fahy put out the third man for Lynn. Tierney singled to left. O'neill flied out to center field. Halstein hit down the first base line to Estes who threw Tierney out at first. Orway got hit by a pitched ball and there were two men on bases. Lynch hit to Fahy and was thrown out at first.

There was nothing doing for Lowell in the lucky seventh. Bowcock opened with a fly to O'neill. Houser hit to Orway and died at first. Sweeney fanned.

Lowell 2, Lynn 0.

Eighth Inning
Fahy hits in the eighth inning caused Lynn to tie the score. Williams got a single to left field. Then Porter hit a home run in short left field that neither Sweeney nor Dee could get to. ## TROOPS ORDERED TO BAYONNE, N. J.

Two Men Shot Through Heart—Fires Broke Out During Riot—Strikers Defy Sheriff Who Admits Situation is Beyond Control in Appeal for Militia

NEW YORK, July 22.—Two dead and six seriously injured, one probably mortally, was the harvest reaped by rioters at the Standard Oil and Tidewater plants today as the result of two attacks on the deputies guarding the property. Two fires also occurred, one in the Standard Oil plant, where a watchman's house was virtually destroyed; the other in the yard of the Tidewater Oil company, where staves and lumber were stored. This last fire was started by means of burning oily waste thrown over the walls by rioters. It was speedily extinguished with trilling loss.

Shot Through Heart
Those killed in the fighting were Stanley Murefko, 23 years old, and Nicolas Iwaszkio, 19—both of whom were shot through the heart by Winchester rifle bullets apparently fired by the guards. The men were killed during an attack on the barrel works of the Tidewater plant which began at 11:40 a. m. and lasted for half an hour. The sudden heavy downpour of rain had much to do with stopping this fight.

Strikers Defy Sheriff
A feature of this attack was a defiance of the strikers by Sheriff Eugene Kinkaid, who has tried to persuade the men to keep order and submit their grievances to arbitration. He was up to the rioters when the men were at its height and commanded the men to desist. He was greeted with jeers and left the scene. Later it was announced that he had asked for troops and that companies from Newark and New Bank, it is expected, will soon be on the scene.

Appeal for Troops
In a statement regarding his call for troops, Sheriff Kinkaid said: "I telephoned to the governor that it was necessary to call out the militia. The men are not amenable to reason. They don't seem able to distinguish between my men and the men paid as guards. The situation is beyond my control and I have asked the governor to send men at once."

Former Austrian Soldier Dying
Of the wounded in today's fighting, John Surgen, said to be a former Austrian soldier, who led the fighting in the first attack, which was made early today on the Standard Oil plant, is probably mortally wounded. He was shot through the abdomen.

Until the men got out of hand today Sheriff Kinkaid had every hope that he would bring about a settlement of the differences of the Standard Oil strikers, who went out late last week and Monday following a 15 per cent. increase in wages. The Tidewater plant was shut down because of the disorder. The sheriff, with a committee, had consulted with Standard Oil officials and expected to have another conference with them late today. He also telephoned to Washington for conciliators and two were on their way to Bayonne when the disorder was resumed and the sheriff was defied.

L. W. W. Leader Halted Down
After the howl attacked the strikers and their sympathizers gathered in groups on the streets leading to the Standard Oil works, but made no threatening move towards the plant. Among several orators who addressed them was Frank Tannebaum, an industrial Workers of the World leader. At one large gathering the men did not take kindly to his utterances and he was howled down.

Two More Fires
Two more fires, the first in two tank cars at the extreme east end of the Standard Oil plant and the other in the stove yard of the Tidewater Co. occurred this afternoon.

A meeting of strikers was held this afternoon to hear the report of the committee which conferred with the Standard Oil officials yesterday. The committee reported that it had not been able to confer with the officials again today as they had expected because of the riots. They recommended that the men should remain out on strike, and this the meeting voted to do.

Revolver Duel
Just before 3 p. m., a crowd of men standing about 150 yards from the Tidewater plant were fired on by the inside guards there. Some of the men immediately replied in kind, firing revolver shots in return.

ADJUTANT GENERAL KILLED
JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 22.—Gov. Fielder, at his office here, was called to the telephone by Sheriff Kinkaid after the attack upon the Tidewater plant and as a result of the communication, the governor announced that he had ordered Adjutant General Sadler to proceed at once to Bayonne and survey the situation and report what troops, if any, were needed there.

The visit of the adjutant general, it was explained, usually follows a call by a sheriff for troops, so it is thought that the representations made by the sheriff to the governor amounted to the next thing to a formal call for armed aid.

SENDS FEDERAL MEDIATORS
WASHINGTON, July 22.—At the request of Sheriff Kinkaid, the department of labor today sent John A. Moffat and James A. Smythe to Bayonne to act as federal conciliators in the labor trouble there. Both men are regular conciliators of the department and have brought about settlements of other labor troubles.

Inquiries Concerning Contagious Hospital—Plans for Memorial Building Still in the Air

The need of a contagious hospital in Lowell was again demonstrated this morning when a local party telephoned to the board of health office at city hall, inquiring if the city had a sanatorium for tuberculous patients. The clerk of the department informed the party at the other end of the line that the city did not maintain an institution for contagious diseases, but provision could be made for the removal of a tuberculous patient to the Rutland sanatorium or some other state institution of a like nature.

The clerk also informed the party that tuberculous clinics were being held at city hall every Tuesday afternoon and Thursday evening with Dr. Finnegan in charge, while Miss Mulvey, a graduated nurse, makes visits to the

KEPPLER SAYS THEY WILL BE BACK AT BRIDGEPORT PLANTS MONDAY

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 22.—J. J. Keppler, president of the International Association of Machinists returned to Bridgeport this afternoon from New York with what was described as a "written agreement" which would lead to the settlement of the strike in the plants of the Remington Arms and Ammunition Co. and several sub-contractors. The original proposition that might lead to the settlement was made, he said, by Frank Jennings, vice president of the machinists. Mr. Keppler said he had good reason to believe that every striker would be back to work on Monday and that an eight hour day for the machinists of Bridgeport was nearly a certainty.

Mr. Keppler at first declined to answer any questions in regard to the result of his mission to New York. Later, however, he said that an executive meeting would be held here tonight and the entire proposition would be considered by the leaders. Later on, he added, the proposition would be submitted to the members of the union and then to the Remington Arms and Ammunition company.

The belief prevailed in labor circles that the proposition said to have been made by Jennings had something to do with the status of the millwright. This status, disputed by the machinists and by the carpenters, was directly responsible for the present labor troubles in Bridgeport.

TO SUPPORT GEN. HUERTA

President Cabrera of Guatemala Pledged Aid to Dictator Last February

GALVESTON, Tex., July 22.—Support from President Cabrera of Guatemala for the plans of Gen. Huerta and associates for re-establishing control of affairs in Mexico, was pledged as early as last February, according to the Voice de la Revolution, a newspaper of Merida, Mex., copies of which were received here today. This publication prints what purports to be letters from Cabrera to Huerta. In one of these letters Cabrera is quoted as saying:

"It does not appear difficult to me to coordinate the revolutionary elements of General Villa with the military elements so worthily personified in you. As ruler and in my private capacity, I may count on my aid in any possible way to tranquilize Mexico. I am sure you will meet no opposition in Chiapas or Tabasco in carrying out this great business."

Another Cabrera letter addressed to General Huerta at Los Angeles, after outlining offers of assistance similar to the foregoing, says:

and founder of the organization; former military instructor Bernard McAnille and military instructor Francis Haggerty, after which the officers will hold a special meeting.

THE LITTLE ONES

Boys and Girls are Enjoying the Playground Season

The playground season is now on in full swing and the next few months promises to be a very busy period for children and instructors alike. The attendance of children at the various playgrounds has been even greater than last year and the everyday sessions in which the children are put through all sorts of healthful and invigorating exercises by competent instructors are looked forward to by the kiddies with gleeful anticipation.

The one disconcerting fact in connection with the system, however, is the shortage of instructors, there being only one for every two or three at every playground in the city. As a result of this shortage, the force at present engaged is kept busy most of the time looking after the safety of the children and much important work is left undone.

Patrick J. Reynolds, head supervisor of the playground system is to be congratulated on the work thus far accomplished, and the spirit of co-operation shown by the instructors and members of the park commission and even private citizens towards furthering the system is to be commended.

A little over a week ago members of the park commission made a trip of inspection to the various playgrounds, and at a meeting held by the supervisors this week, Harvey B. Greene, speaking for the commission, expressed complete satisfaction with the work accomplished.

The North common playground was visited by a Sun reporter this morning, and the visit proved thoroughly enjoyable. There were about 200 children of various ages on the playground, and needless to state they were enjoying themselves to their hearts' content. The boys under the direction of Mr. Reynolds held full sway over the baseball diamond, while the girls in charge of Miss Mary Joyce and her assistants, were located in groups on the green.

Baseball, running, jumping, hurdling and in fact every kind of field sport imaginable were being conducted in the boys' department and Mr. Reynolds as indeed in many cases. First he was called upon to settle a dispute in the baseball game, and then he was to start a sprint race between three youngsters, who had been claiming the supremacy of the district for the past two weeks in short distance events. The boys took up their attention and he did not have a single minute to waste until 10 o'clock when time was called and the youngsters were told to make ready to go to the baths in Elliot street. Fully 60 youths made the trip to the shower baths, and here they had the time of their lives. The baths are open to the North common boys on Tuesday and Thursday mornings of each week, and Tuesday and Friday afternoons are set apart for the girls of the district.

In Maypole Dance

The girls on the North common were being put through a maypole dance when the writer happened along by Miss Joyce, and it could plainly be seen that they were heart and soul in the work, for when one of the children made a mistake the others offered advice, and when the same mistake occurred to make the same mistake a second time, she got the scolding of her life from her playmates and one of them was overheard to remark, "Nobody home!" The children after a few attempts went through the various evolutions of this dance in faultless manner, and when they had finished a beautiful ball had been woven by the ribbons on the pole. After the dance, the children scattered in groups, and were taken in charge by Miss Joyce's assistants.

The South common was later visited and here the same spirit of enjoyment among the children was found. Eugene J. Donovan, a former high school athlete was in charge of the field sports, and the girls' department was presided over by efficient young lady instructors.

The closing of the playgrounds will take place some time in September, and Mr. Reynolds and his corps of assistants are planning to make the event one to long be remembered by all who attend.

The following young people are in charge of the children on the various playgrounds throughout the city: North common, Patrick J. Reynolds, head supervisor; Miss Mary Joyce, assistant supervisor; Miss Anna L. McNabb, Edith Lombard, Helen Hickley, Mary Clare Flynn and Mary Sullivan, assistants. South common: Eugene J. Donovan, male supervisor; Miss Kathleen Tobin, female supervisor; Misses

LOWELL CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS WILL ERECT FINE EDIFICE ON NESMITH LAND IN BELVIDERE

The First Church of Christ Scientists, is contemplating the erection of a fine church edifice on land fronting on Andover and Nesmith streets. Recently a minority of the members purchased the House of Prayer in Walker street as a meeting place, the majority remaining in Colonial hall. It is expected, however, that with the erection of a new church the minority will join the majority and dispose of the House of Prayer. The land to be purchased is known as the Nesmith land, but it does not include the Joseph A. Nesmith residence. The price paid for the land is not stated.

PRETTY DESIGNS IN FASHIONABLE SILK SKIRTS;
3-PIECE TUCKED SKIRT VERY NEAT AND ATTRACTIVE

No skirt is prettier for the fashionable silk and none is more fashionable than this one laid in three wide tucks at the lower edge. In the picture, it is made of foulard and the over-bodice is of the same material, while the blouse beneath is of silk crepe, not crepe de chine, a little heavier sort, more lustrous and still washable. The foulard shows a satin finish and makes an exceedingly handsome costume. The blouse is made double breasted at the front to suggest the waistcoat idea and with the bishop sleeves that always are dainty and pretty. At the back there is a sash. The foulard with the crepe makes a very handsome costume and altogether fashionable and desirable, but there are other materials that would be good.

MILLS WILL RUN

None Will Close for Vacation Week in New Bedford

NEW BEDFORD, July 22.—After conferring with each other, all the manufacturers have decided to run their mills during the first week in August, regardless of the action of the labor unions in designating it as vacation week. A number of the manufacturers have taken a vote of the operatives in their plants, and they say they find that not more than 50 per cent. of the workers want a vacation, and of these only about one-third want the first week in August. Many of the other 50 per cent. have already taken their vacation.

The mill men are counting on the great majority of the operatives reporting for work as usual on Aug. 2, when the union's vacation week begins. Notwithstanding the vote of the unions as announced by the union officials, the manufacturers refuse to believe that any large percentage of the workers are much in favor of the general vacation plan. In one mill it is stated that the sentiment for the union's proposition was confined almost entirely to the weave room.

A complicating factor in the situation is the fact that many of the union men were under a misapprehension

when they voted to take the vacation regardless of the refusal of the manufacturers to grant it. In some way or other they had received the impression that the manufacturers, while not able to close their mills voluntarily because thereby they could not keep up their cloth and yarn deliveries on contracts in hand, were not strongly averse to the operatives taking the vacation on their own responsibility because that would be in the nature of a strike and the manufacturers would be protected in their contracts by the strike clauses usually embodied in them.

"That idea of the union officials was absolutely groundless," said a manufacturer yesterday. "I have talked about this vacation week with many of the other treasurers and they are all strongly opposed to it. It will cost the mills, the operatives, and the businessmen of the city hundreds of thousands of dollars. The customers of the mills will lose heavily by it in delayed deliveries on fabrics which they should have at the earliest possible date to catch the seasonal demand. In this mill the operatives were asked whether they wanted the first week in August. Less than a fifth wanted the week designated by the unions. Those who want a vacation can have it as nearly as possible at the time they choose."

HATS OFF TO UNCLE TOM

BACHELOR BEGS JUDGE FOR CHILD HE REARED—CARED FOR BABY TWO YEARS

PASSAIC, N. J., July 22.—Thomas Miller, an unmarried bachelor of 32, living at 118 Second street, gave Judge Thomas F. Costello what he called several good reasons why he refused to surrender the custody of his four-year-old niece, Frances Albena Samtax, to her father, Joseph Samtax of Athens.

The child's parents became estranged when she was 6 months old. She was left motherless at 2, and neighbors complained that she was allowed to toddle, uncared for, around the streets. Miller found her and took her in.

"If you please, Your Honor, I've done my best for this little girl," said the young bachelor. "For two years I've washed, dressed and fed her. I've ironed her clothes, too. I'm not ashamed to say, I have a contract to build a house in Delaware, and every day I take Frances with me. She plays near me in the fresh air while I work, and is growing strong and healthy. I love her, Judge, and I know she loves me. A dozen of Miller's neighbors said the young man told the truth and Mrs. Sadie Ranzenhoffer, a lawyer, volunteered to defend without fees his claim as the little girl's guardian. Judge Costello will give his decision on Friday. If the child is permitted to help the court out, the neighbors say, she would vote in favor of Uncle Tom.

AS BOY FOR FIVE YEARS

PUPPER GIRL ARRESTED AT NEW HAVEN—FORCED INTO SKIRTS. SHE SAYS LIFE LOSES CHARM

NEW HAVEN, July 22.—After five years of roaming about the country and Europe as a boy, Edna Puffer, the 18-year-old girl arrested in the railroad yards late Tuesday night just as she was about to hop a freight to New York, was ruthlessly thrust back into petticoats yesterday afternoon and an effort will be made to find some one who will give her a job. Edna says that the charm of life has been broken, now that she has to wear feminine attire, and she doesn't know whether she will ever submit to the wanderlust again.

Convinced that Franklin Shaw, the sailor who was arrested in her company, was unaware of his companion's sex, although he had been with her for nearly three months, Judge John R. Booth yesterday in the city court continued both their cases until today, when Miss Puffer will make her first public appearance as a woman in five years.

The girl left Newport News three months ago on a cattle boat for London on which she was employed as a potato peeler. She met Shaw at that time and made him her companion. Shaw was one of the boat's crew. After landing in London she and Shaw went to France and Holland and then returned to this side on the same boat, landing at Montreal. They were on their way from Montreal to Newport News by way of the bumper route when arrested here for vagrancy.

The Puffer girl was born in Sheldon Falls, Vt., and following a whipping at the hands of an aunt five years ago she ran away, but found it hard to get work. Clipping off an abundance of hair and donning men's clothing she later discovered it was fairly easy to pick up odd jobs and up to Tuesday night successfully passed as a boy. The girl claims to have Indian, negro and English blood in her veins.

WAR MUNITIONS ON SHIP

INSPECTION OF CARGO ABOARD SCHOONER SHOWS BOXES WITH GUNS MADE IN 1865

ABERDEEN, Wash., July 22.—Inspection of the war munitions aboard the schooner Annie Larsen, now being held here by the customs officials, shows that the most modern Springfield rifles the shipment contains are of 1873 and that many of the boxes are filled with guns made in 1865. Others of the guns show much use.

The Annie Larsen put into port here recently after having sailed from San Diego, Cal., on an indefinite course under direction of a super cargo. Government officials detained her upon arrival.

SLIGHT MENTAL TROUBLE

Lowell Man Missing From Home Since Friday Last Was Found in Concord, N. H.

Charles W. Bell of 400 Beacon street, for many years a window clerk in the local post office, and who has been missing from home since last Friday, was found yesterday in Concord, N. H. A telephone message to that effect was received at the local police station and Mrs. Bell was notified. She immediately left for New Hampshire to assist her husband. Though Mr. Bell had been missing since last Friday, the local police did not know of his disappearance until yesterday. It was stated by the Concord authorities that he appeared to be suffering from a mental trouble. It is understood that Mr. Bell left home Friday and failed to appear at night, as usual. Where he had been since could not be learned. Mrs. Bell and her husband returned from Concord today.

ARREST TWO CHINAMEN

THE MOTHS PEST

Browntail Moths Took Lowell by Storm Last Evening

John G. Gordon, chief moth exterminator for the city of Lowell, is vindicated. He said that the browntail moths would blow into Lowell in clouds that would possibly impede travel, and that's just what happened last night. Sidewalk travel was impeded and everybody took to the middle of the street to escape the browntails. The sight in Middlesex, Merrimack and Central streets was one not soon to be forgotten.

If either party engaged in the great European conflict could throw in as many extra men as there were browntails in Lowell last night the war would soon end. The browntails are devotees of the great white way and they monopolized it last night. They swarmed in clouds around all of the lights, and stuck to the poles with a tenacity that would have done credit to an English bulldog.

Pedestrians rushed from the sidewalks to the middle of the street and frantically waved hats and handkerchiefs in an endeavor to keep the moths away. In Middlesex street the sidewalks were absolutely deserted, and the moths stuck to one's clothing as lovingly and affectionately as the pesky visitors and some unreasonable ones who became much more interested in disposing of the moth than in the war. They swarmed in clouds around all of the lights, and stuck to the poles with a tenacity that would have done credit to an English bulldog.

In some of the downtown districts last night people turned the hose on the moths, but that didn't seem to affect them very seriously. The powdered wings were up and at it again in a short time and it seemed imperative that one should keep his eyes and mouth closed for the moths didn't seem the least particular as to what part of one's anatomy they lighted upon. The alleged car motor men and conductors had their collars turned up and one fellow was seen with goggles and earplugs on. He also wore gauntlet gloves and explained that it was necessary for him to take every precaution because of his susceptibility to the browntail itch.

This morning the moths were everywhere. They covered the fronts of buildings, shut out the light from windows, clothed light, telephone, telegraph and other poles in white, strewn the sidewalks and made themselves generally obnoxious. Wit, don't you care, Mr. Gordon, the man who presaged their coming, says they will go away in a very few days. Cheer up!

It is rather discouraging after having spent so much money on moth extermination to have them increase in numbers.

The local police have been unable to find any clue to the person or persons who stole the Ford automobile belonging to C. A. Hooper of 22 Oakland street, from Middle street last evening. Mr. Hooper reported that he left his machine standing near the corner of Central and Middle streets about 7.15 o'clock and when he returned over two hours later it was gone.

A large delegation of Lowell Elks attended the annual outing of Lawrence lodge 65, B. P. O. E., at Rockingham park, Salem, N. H., yesterday. A fine lobster dinner was served at two o'clock and there was a good list of sports. Those who were present enjoyed a corking good ball game between the married and single Elks of Lawrence. Tom is a bachelor and you can guess who won the game.

The annual outing of the members of the Foresters Holy Name society will be held Saturday at Revere beach. Edward Walsh, is chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements for the affair. The members of the Swedish Methodist Episcopal church will also enjoy the day at the same resort, while the Salvation Army will hold its annual outing at North Chelmsford.

The $30,000 hydroaeroplane invented by Albert S. Richardson and his son, Wilbur E., of this city was destroyed yesterday at its moorings on the Potomac during a severe storm. It is not believed that what is left of the machine will stand repairing. It is understood that the inventors were carrying on negotiations with R. Russell, the Russian consul at Pueblo, Col., for the purchase of the giant hydroaeroplane. Monday the machine was given a brief tour to select from among the consultants and other tests had been planned for the near future.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN CONTEST

The biggest Charlie Chaplin contest ever held in New England will be held in Lowell at the Casino hall, starting Friday evening, July 30th, 1915, under the auspices of the B. C. McGuire E. & N. Co., of Lowell, Mass.

The B. C. McGuire company is a theatrical organization and its business takes it through many states. The coming season the company will tour Maine, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Ohio, Indiana and Michigan.

It is the intention of the company managers to carry with them on their tour two character impersonators of Charlie Chaplin, and they are running a Charlie Chaplin contest in Lowell, beginning Friday evening, July 30th, to select from among the contestants two impersonators of the famous comedian and will employ them this coming winter in that capacity.

This offers a golden opportunity to the young men of Lowell who are attracted to the stage. A good chance to see the country and obtain educational as well as financial advantages.

The company is going to offer a good salary and make it an inducement for some of our good sensible young men of the city to show their value in this line and enter the contest. It is their intention to try to get a contestant from each of the social clubs in town, as they feel that there is surely some member of each fraternal or social organization in the town who aspires to enter this particular line of business.

The contest is going to be advertised extensively in Lowell, Lawrence, Haverhill, Nashua and Manchester, and there should be a good response from contestants.

As an additional entertainment to the patrons who attend this contest, the company is arranging a series of entertainments that will be both enjoyable and amusing. On the first night there will be besides the opening of the contest, which will take three nights to decide, a big cabaret show, very good singers, also an exhibition dancing contest open to local dancers, for which a $10 prize will be given.

The price of admission will be twenty-five cents, free dancing all evening and there is no question, but what the patrons of this contest will surely receive enough entertainment value for their money.

The contest will be decided in three evenings, 1st to be Friday evening, July 30th, 2nd Friday evening, August 6th and 3rd, Thursday evening, August 12th.

Cabaret show starts promptly at 8.30 p. m. Exhibition dancing contest 9.15 p. m. Charlie Chaplin contest starts promptly 9.45 p. m.

Too Nervous To Drive a Car?

That's too bad, old man, but you know nervousness is largely due to wrong habits of eating and drinking. If you would quit coffee and use Postum your nerves would steady up.

Postum tastes much like fine, mild Java but there's no drug in it—that's where it's got coffee beat a mile. Sound advice.

More and more, people are waking up to the harmful effects of caffeine—the drug in coffee—a frequent cause of nervousness, heart flutter, dizziness, headache, and other ailments.

Instant Postum

is the soluble form of the original Postum Cereal. A level teaspoonful of the crystalline powder in a cup of hot water makes a delicious food-drink instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

The convenience of Instant Postum is seen at a glance, but some prefer the original Postum Cereal which must be thoroughly boiled—15c and 25c packages. Grocers sell both kinds and the cost per cup is about the same.

A change from coffee to Postum has been a good thing for thousands.

EXTENSION OF DUMMER STREET

We do not agree with our neighbor, the Courier-Citizen, that the municipal council should resort to condemnation proceedings under the right of eminent domain, to secure land for the Dummer street extension where the owners are unwilling to sell for what the city is willing to pay. Experience has shown that municipal and state governments seldom gain financially by resorting to the right of seizing the land, and that in fact they seldom adopt this course except in cases of extreme necessity and where the land cannot be secured in any other way.

Some people talk rather lightly of this process of taking a man's property away from him; but let it be understood that no man can be deprived of his property, dispossessed or disturbed in his business, without full and ample compensation. In such cases the value of the land and buildings may be but a minor consideration. If a man conducting a profitable business in an old building is dispossessed because the city wants his property, it is only fair that he should be paid not only for his buildings but for the business that he built up by many years of labor and expense. In such cases he can claim consequential damages and recover a sum perhaps five times as great as the value of the buildings. When such a case is thrown into the courts for adjudication, the jury usually sympathizes with the owner and is always ready to compensate him for the loss of his property, for the inconvenience and trouble caused by the disturbance and also for the specific damages he may be able to show as a result of losing an established business.

Take, for example, a manufacturing plant in the suburbs where land is cheap. Some might think that it should be secured for its assessed value; but when a fair estimate is set upon the equipment, the value of the business, the prospect of future growth and other circumstances, the land value is usually the smallest item in the final reckoning of the damages.

Hence it is, that we would discourage any resort to the seizure of land except under the most extreme necessity. Better settle the question of property damage by private arrangement or even by arbitration than to submit it to the courts, leaving the city liable to a long series of suits and to verdicts far in excess of what the property might be secured for by direct negotiation with the owners.

So much for the general merits or demerits of this method of acquiring property for public improvements. In the case of the Dummer street extension there should be no resort to such proceedings. In the first place there is no urgent demand for the improvement that would justify such an extreme step. The extension is urged as a desirable improvement in the vicinity of city hall, but it is not an urgent public necessity by any means. One of the reasons urged in its favor is that it would remove unsightly buildings from the environment of city hall. Yes, it might; but it would bring others far more unsightly into plain view. Why not build a few attractive structures to improve our municipal architecture rather than do upon the removal of old buildings that inevitably must soon give way to the march of progress if the authorities at city hall do not run the tax rate so high that all building enterprises will be discouraged.

Our city officials should meet the most urgent public necessities first. They should first of all give us a hospital for contagious diseases; then they should give us a new high school and needed additions to certain grammar schools. After that they should give us a new bridge at Pawtucket falls, then a public hall and a public bath system. This done, if the city had no more urgent demand to attend to and had plenty of money, it might extend Dummer street without involving itself in litigation and heavy liability by resorting to the seizure of property. If any other course be pursued, the people will naturally conclude that political considerations rather than public convenience and necessity dictate the taking up of this matter while others immeasurably more urgent and important are neglected.

ALLEGED DYNAMITE PLOTS

There seems to be good grounds for believing that secret plots and conspiracies are on foot to place bombs aboard vessels carrying supplies in this country to Europe for the war. The frequency of fires aboard vessels carrying such supplies cannot be explained in any other way than that the bombs are secretly placed in the cargo and timed to go off when the vessels are well out from shore. The case of the Minnehaha which had to put into port at Halifax badly damaged as a result of a fire started by an explosion, is not the only one of the kind. An alarming fire started in the supercargo's cabin on the shipwrecked at Camden near Philadelphia in circumstances in which the president of the company said there was nothing that could cause a fire. A similar condition prevailed recently on the battleship Alabama at League Island, Philadelphia, when the flames raged within four feet of 5000 pounds of powder with 500 fuses on board.

The government at Washington is called upon to investigate the charges that German sympathizers from the United States were responsible for the blowing up of a government munition factory across the Canadian border. The Washington authorities are at work on the case; but they find the law very vague in regard to conspiracies hatched in this country, to be carried out in another country, although it is an evident breach of neutrality to use the United States as a base from which to inflict injury or loss upon one of the belligerents in the present war. Some steps must be taken to put a stop to any such attempts and already it is understood the government has the names of many who are suspected of being identified with secret plots to blow up British ships and prevent the export of ammunition.

RUSSIA'S PLIGHT

There is some talk of Russia being forced to make a separate peace with Germany, but conditions are not quite so bad with her as to make such a step necessary.

Russia will stand to her promise not to make peace with Germany unless the other allies are willing. A condition might arise, however, in which the other allies might deem it advisable to have Russia make peace with Germany and get out of the fight.

For example, should Germany make such progress against Russia as to threaten Petrograd, then her allies to save her from the worst humiliation would counsel peace. Russia at present is hopelessly handicapped by lack of munitions, and there is great doubt as to whether she can get supplies in time to turn the tide of German victory before Warsaw is taken or before some most valuable and strategic forts on the Baltic fall. Russia is making a gallant fight under the most adverse circumstances. When she has only infantry to oppose the big guns of Germany, how can she make a successful resistance? She lacks the factories to make munitions and she lacks the railroad facilities for the quick transfer of munitions from abroad. Her plight is pitiable in the extreme. With enough fighting men to conquer any nation on earth, she lacks the equipment. Her millions of brave soldiers count for little before the fierce onslaught of the German artillery and the quick flanking movements of her highly disciplined enemy.

OUR LOCAL DROWNINGS

Much has been heard of the deplorable drownings in local waterways of late, and an appeal is made to the city government and the Locks & Canals company to have the canals intersecting the city so fenced that the danger to children will be minimized. All that is said in this line is on the whole justified. There are many danger spots that should receive attention without delay, and the neglect to fence which will leave the city liable for damages for any accident that may occur. The same is doubtless true of the Locks & Canals company, which seems to think that an occasional post along the water's edge with a top and middle rail nailed on is all that the law requires. That, however, offers free access to children. But, on the other hand, the parents are not supposed to throw all the responsibility over upon the city or the waterways company. They cannot blame anybody if the little ones climb over the fences and get drowned while trying to bathe in the canals. Neither can they blame the Locks & Canals company if children are drowned while trespassing upon land and playing along unfenced canals where they have no business. The parents cannot shrink their own responsibility by trying to place all the blame on the city and the Locks & Canals company. The canals cannot all be guarded with high fences of chicken wire or of wood, although in a great many cases the fences provided should be a great deal better than they are. The present situation should result in some improvement.

UNSIGHTLY STREETS

Anybody who makes a tour of Market, Davidson and some other streets in our city can see that there is no attention paid to the matter of keeping the streets free from rubbish and litter of various kinds. The police at one time were known to be reminding the people of their duty in such cases, but perhaps they have forgotten all about it.

The board of health does not seem to bother with such matters beyond plaining in any other way than that the regular inspectors of the department are well out from shore. The case of the Minnehaha which had to put into port at Halifax badly damaged as a result of a fire started by an explosion, is not the only one of the kind. An alarming fire started in the supercargo's cabin on the shipwrecked at Camden near Philadelphia in circumstances in which the president of the company said there was nothing that could cause a fire. A similar condition prevailed recently on the battleship Alabama at League Island, Philadelphia, when the flames raged within four feet

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

In spite of the pessimistic howl of some republicans, the tide of business has turned upward and few now have any doubt that this country is in for a period of great prosperity. Lowell has fared better than most other cities during the dull period and is now about to share in the coming wave of prosperity. Several of the mills are so busy that they have had to cancel their usual summer vacations, and others are doing much night work. At present there is no need of anybody being idle who wants work.

MILK A CENT A GLASS

There is a movement on foot for a milk station in Boston at which the poor can purchase fresh, pure milk at a cent a glass after the plan of the Nathan Strauss milk stations in New York. Judging from the difficulty of getting pure milk in Boston and the tendency to put up the price, there is little probability that the Strauss idea will be copied in Boston.

SEEN AND HEARD

A MUSEUM OF CRIME
Prof. Hans Gross of the University of Graz, Austria, has the credit of establishing the first museum of criminology and a criminalistic laboratory, where the weapons, tools and other paraphernalia and materials used by criminals are assembled to assist in the analysis of the workings of criminal minds and a study of methods and systems for dealing with this large and dangerous class of every community. This museum was established in 1895, and since then other establishments of the same character have been organized.

One of the most important of these is the Society of Criminology and Social Defense in Paris, which has a membership of more than 1000, including many prominent representatives of the law, the police and medical profession, and it was organized to concentrate and centralize the scattered efforts of individuals who were studying this disquieting social problem and to make the results of their work available for mutual information.

FASTING AND HEALTH

"The practice of fasting," states a medical man, "is, when wisely followed, most beneficial. I am convinced that many people never feel the sensation of hunger. A habit of judicious fasting is a habit of health."

It is easy enough to detect fatness when you hear it applied to a man you do not like.

The young man who runs the elevator in a big apartment house goes to know a great deal about human nature, but he is seldom a great admirer of it.

When one woman says to another, "I am going to have a party," the question immediately arises in the mind of the other woman, "Who is going to pay for it?"

The hired man on the farm doesn't sit on the fence so much as he used to before barbed wire was introduced. He sits on the fence in the shade just the same as usual.

People who are going to the country to enjoy the quiet life, have been to the country to enjoy a quiet Fourth.

It is unfair to judge a man's whole character by what he says when he is getting into bed.

If a man took an old fruit basket and broke the handle off and tied a lot of colored rags around the basket and fastened some of them to a string and a stick of celery on the basket, and then put it on his head and wore it down town he would be accused of being a fool. But a woman can do it and not only get away with it, but also succeed in making other women jealous.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

At one time when Lloyd George, who is proud of his lively wit, was speaking in public, a heckler, attempting to discredit him, called out, "Do you remember when your grandfather drove a donkey and cart?"

You will have to forgive me, ladies and gentlemen," replied Mr. George, "the cart had quite escaped my memory, but I see that the donkey is living yet."—Examiner.

ACRE BOY MAKING GOOD

EDWARD A. WHITE CONDUCTED DANCING AT FIESTA OF SAN DIEGO EXPOSITION

An old "Acre" boy, Mr. Edward A. White, has achieved unusual distinction in his profession, that of dancing instructor, by the successful manner in which he conducted the children's dancing at the July fiesta of the San Diego, Cal., exposition, says a newspaper despatch from that city. Mr. White was selected as the supervisor of dancing for the fiesta after the general committee on exposition affairs had deliberated upon the qualifications of nearly 100 aspirants for the position. According to the despatch, the event proved one of the most artistic of the attractions so far displayed at the exposition.

Mr. White has been in California for several years, where, in Los Angeles, he conducts what is regarded as the most select dancing academy in the Pacific states. It is patronized by all the members of Los Angeles society who wish to acquire perfection in the various dance steps of the past few seasons, and its proprietor and corps of instructors are regarded as the official disseminators of the "last word" in dancing in that section of the country.

In California, more so than in other parts of the United States, dancing has engrossed the attention of young and old, not merely during the present terpsichorean wave but virtually since the days of the gold seekers. The innate fondness which the people there have for this form of social relaxation, probably, too, is a matter of heredity, the early dance steps of many flows a strain of Castilian blood; those progenitors being famed during centuries for the perfection with which they practiced the art. It follows that unwonted interest was attached to the dancing at the exposition and that elaborate preparation was made for a complete portrayal of its various stages of development from the days of Balboa to those of Goethals. All this was under the supervision of Mr. White.

The elements of play, song and drama were to be found in varying degrees in these dances, according to the despatch, they ranging in character from the simple song play, in which the accompanying action was descriptive of various historical events, to the highly developed collection of movements which breathed forth the pure joy of life in rhythmic exercise. While tramping through the different steps the children had been told the stories of their origin, an origin which in many instances is shrouded in the mists of antiquity, learning for the first time of many beautiful traditions of the old world and the new. And so the dances of generations ago were gone through by the little ones of the Golden Gate with that naive simplicity that is the glory of childhood, dancing as they were in response to a primal impulse of happiness that is as pure and as lovely as the sunshine of the fields.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE

Addressee by Deputy Commr. of Probation and Mrs. Johnson

A fair sized audience assembled in the parlor of the Highland club last evening to listen to addresses on equal suffrage by Herbert E. Parsons of Boston, deputy commissioner of probation, and Mrs. Lewis J. Johnson, wife of Professor Johnson of Harvard university. The arguments of the speakers were received with great enthusiasm and each was given a rousing cheer before leaving the hall.

Mr. Parsons said that he delivered an address in favor of suffrage about 15 years ago, when in the legislature, and has worked in its behalf since. He said that he had the good fortune to help a suffragist, in surroundings that fostered a high sense of freedom and liberty. Also, he was born into this world during the administration of a man whose name stands among Americans as the exemplar and forerunner of human freedom, Abraham Lincoln, whose faith in human equality extended to the inclusion of women among those who should share in the privilege and responsibilities of citizenship.

He said that he was not there as a "woman's man," but as a man of the "woman." There were many things to be said on the subject, with that emphasis; but to his mind, it is purely a question of democracy, and he went on to show that it squares exactly with the principles of that group of men who established the constitution of Massachusetts. The kind of majority that is given to this amendment will be a test of how far the citizenship of Massachusetts—so far as it is confined to the men—is following the ideas of the government as it was established, and how ready they are to cast off the conservatism of the past and apply the principles of government to present-day conditions.

"We no longer hear," he said, "that woman is not qualified for suffrage, that she will not come up to that very high standard of citizenship that we men have established. Also, the old argument is disappearing, that woman suffrage is going to bring about the disintegration of the home. It has been demonstrated in the western states where there is equal suffrage, that the home is just as safe as in Massachusetts."

"It comes down to me, and I hope it is coming down to the voters of this commonwealth, that you cannot think of a democracy, you cannot think of a really representative government in this commonwealth, in which all the people have an equal voice in the government and who have the right to share in the exercise of the right to vote."

"Speaking for the women, Mrs. Johnson said that at one time, it was thought that education for women not to be educated; and the same arguments were used against their education as are now used against their voting. There is now living in this state a great educator, who said in the earlier days of Boston that it would do for the school at the public expense, and that same man is now saying that it would not do to give women the ballot, but that it would bankrupt the state to count the ballots."

"We have representative government," she said, "I wonder if it would suit the men if we turned it around and let the men be represented as we are."

In closing, she assured the audience that women are strong enough physically to bear the strain. "If we can work eight hours a day, we are strong enough to cast a ballot."

THE SUFFRAGE CHAIN

TONGUE OF LIBERTY BELL WILL NOT WAG UNTIL PENNSYLVANIA WOMEN CAN VOTE

Two Lowell young people, Oliver Cushing Hall and his sister, Miss Louise Hall, son and daughter of Mrs. Mary Hall, of 128 Wainwright street, are touring the state of Pennsylvania at the present time with the suffrage bell which is being carried all over the state on an appropriately decorated automobile truck in an effort to assist in the suffrage cause. Miss Hall is acting as director of the famous tour and her brother, a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is performing the duties of chauffeur of the motor truck.

The bell is said to be an excellent imitation of the liberty bell and bears the motto, "Establish Justice." The clapper is securely chained and will not be loosened, claim the suffragettes, until women have been granted the vote in Pennsylvania.

The bell, which was presented to the suffrage cause by Mrs. Katherine Wentworth Ruschenberger, started on its tour on June 23, from Sayre, Penn. The tour took a holiday to see the bell and her escort and there was speaking by Mayor Garlin of Sayre and Miss Hall of Lowell.

Some hints that will start you right. First, the flesh should be firm, elastic, bright and of uniform color. It is dull or purple it may have been cut for some time or not properly cared for. Second, the skin should be free from blemishes. The factors determining the grade of a piece of beef are its thickness, covering, quality and weight.

Thickness of lean flesh is of little importance to consumers. It is the proportion of lean to fat that counts. A piece of meat that has a much higher value than fat or bone, hence thicker, is of first consequence even in the cheaper cuts used for boiling or stewing. The depth of flesh is usually in proportion to the class of beef, in which a cut has been made, especially in distinguishing steer cuts from those of cows. The shape in general of a piece also depends very largely on its thickness.

"Covering or depth of fat is most essential in the more valuable cuts, viz., the ribs and loins, because they are the most part of the meat. In regard to the quality of meat, the highest quality of lean can be secured only at the expense of a liberal amount of fat. Those who are accustomed to buying round and brisket cuts expect little or no fat. Quality in beef cuts refers particularly to the grain and firmness of the lean. The distribution of fat through the lean, and the proportion of bone and other waste in the cut.

A tough or sloppy condition after thawing, due to the separation of the water from the tissues of the meat, renders the cut tough and greatly diminishes its value. Fat is deposited in the connective tissue, the cells through the lean, the connective tissue of the connective tissue is dominant. The meat is unpalatable in tenderness, juiciness and flavor."

HAWKERS AND PEDDLERS

State Commissioner of Weights and Measures Explains New Law to Sealers and Others

A very interesting conference of the sealers of weights and measures and some of the chiefs of police departments of Lowell and other cities and towns in this vicinity was held at city hall yesterday afternoon at which Mr. Hanson, of Worcester, state commissioner of weights and measures, discussed the law governing hawkers and peddlers. The law was enacted by the legislature of 1915 and the enforcement of it is up to the departments of weights and measures throughout the state.

An invitation had been sent to all the chiefs of police and sealers in the various cities and towns adjoining Lowell and a large number responded. Those present were as follows:

A. S. K. Clark, of Cambridge, state inspector; Mayor Dennis J. Murphy, John J. Flaherty, clerk of the license board; Warren P. Riordan, sealer of weights and measures; Charles J. Gallagher, assistant sealer; George H. Seaver, of Amesbury, sealer; Frank G. Pearson, of Burlington, sealer; Frank W. Parker, of Reading, sealer; James V. Bryan, Lawrence, sealer; Edward J. Murphy, Lawrence, assistant sealer; Joseph G. Powers, Haverhill, sealer; Stephen Gardal, Westford, chief of the police department; Henry H. Gerretson, sealer; C. A. Aiken, Chelmsford, sealer; F. C. Park, Shirley, sealer; M. L. Daigle, Dracut, sealer; Frank P. Waters, Groton, sealer; William E. Swan, Reading, chief of police; and R. D. Dexter, North Reading, sealer.

Commissioner Hanson was introduced by Mayor Riordan and got to his subject immediately. He took up the state law governing hawkers and peddlers and dissected it. He explained the difference between a hawker and peddler and an itinerant vender, saying the latter is a man who displays his goods in a building, while the former exhibits his goods in the open.

Continuing, Mr. Hanson said: "If a man takes a rain coat on his arm and goes from house to house to solicit orders for raincoats, then he is a hawker and peddler, but if he delivers the goods within 34 hours after the order is taken he cannot be asked to pay a license, because he is selling by sample. However, if he does not so deliver the goods he must be construed to be in violation of the law."

"The average man believes that the only men who are hawkers and peddlers are those who peddle from house to house. But that's not true. But a man who sells from a store and sends his wagons about the streets, then he is a hawker and peddler."

Mr. Hanson said that if a man comes into town with a truck loaded down with vegetables and stops in front of a retail store and bargains with the owner of the store, he is a hawker and peddler. And if he does not have a license in the town in which they operate.

"Hawkers and peddlers may sell without a license, books, newspapers, pamphlets, fuel, provisions, leg, live animals, brooms, agricultural implements, hand tools in making boots and shoes, and the products of their own labor. Gasoline, which feeds a fire, should properly be construed as a fuel. Relative to provisions, he said that food and confectionery are not to be construed as provisions. Ice cream comes under the head of confectionery."

"A fee may be exacted from hawkers and peddlers who sell fruits and vegetables. If a man raises his own vegetables and fruits, and is in the pursuit of agriculture, he is not a hawker and peddler. And therefore he may cry his wares on the street. If a man raises but 20 per cent. of the vegetables and fruits he sells and buys 80 per cent. of what he sells, then he is not in the pursuit of agriculture, but he is a hawker and peddler."

"Supposing a man comes in to a public market from out-of-town, doing that under the public market act, is that man a hawker and peddler?" asked the mayor.

"Yes, he is, and should pay $25," said Mr. Hanson.

"But the idea of the public market act was to save money for the consumers," said the mayor.

"But that act had as its intent the bringing in of farmers who raised their own fruits and vegetables," said Mr. Hanson.

"Yes, but the act does not mention whether a man raises the fruits and vegetables or not—does not say he must be a farmer."

Mr. Hanson said anything which is the growth or production of foreign countries shall not be sold by hawkers and peddlers unless they are duly licensed.

A license to go about exposing for sale and selling any goods, wares or merchandise, except jewelry, wines, spirituous liquors and playing cards, may be issued to any person who files in the office of the commissioner of weights and measures a certificate signed by the mayor of a city or the selectmen of the town, stating that the applicant is of good name and is a citizen or has declared his intentions of becoming one.

FIRE IN THE HIGHLANDS

OFFICE BUILDING OF McENAMIN'S GREENHOUSES ON MARSHALL AVENUE DESTROYED

A spectacular fire of short duration, destroyed the office building of the Marshall avenue greenhouses, owned by John McEnamin, about 10 o'clock last evening, causing a loss that will probably exceed $500. For a few minutes the blaze illuminated the Avenue and many people were attracted to the scene believing that a more serious fire was in progress.

An alarm from box 323, corner of Midland and Lipton streets, was sounded immediately after the discovery of the fire by two boys who gave their names as Tony Silva and Herbert Anderson. At that time the fire had reached the top of the building and the roof was blazing furiously. When the firemen arrived they found it necessary to lay about 1000 feet of hose from the nearest hydrant on Stevens street. The blaze was quickly quenched, however, when the water was poured on the building. The damage was confined to the office, the greenhouses escaping the flames. An investigation as to the cause of the fire leads Chief Saunders to believe that the blaze started from spontaneous combustion. The fire broke out under a stairway in the office and quickly climbed to the top of the building.

ROOSEVELT ASKS ACTION

PLAYS "PROFESSIONAL PACIFISTS"—SHOULD RAISE BOYS TO BE SOLDIERS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—Theodore Roosevelt delivered two addresses yesterday at the Panama-Pacific exposition, one vigorous in tone on military preparations and the other, a brief personal talk to the "men on the line," soldiers, sailors and marines, at the Enlisted Men's club. He held both willingness and ability to be soldiers to be desirable attributes of good citizens. He told the enlisted men "a man afraid to fight is not fit to vote," and "a mother who is not willing to raise her boy to be a soldier, is not fit for citizenship."

"War and Peace"
Before the address at the clubhouse, he planted a poplar tree. "War and Peace" was the topic of Col. Roosevelt's address to an immense audience gathered in the court of the universe. Col. Roosevelt was escorted from his hotel by a squadron of the first cavalry and by various military and public officials. A presidential salute of 21 guns was given him by warships in the harbor. He was introduced by Gov. Hiram W. Johnson of California, his running-mate for the presidency on the progressive ticket in 1912.

For Universal Military Service
"I firmly believe that there should be universal military service for our young men on the Swiss model," said the former president at one point in his speech.

At another, referring to the price which Belgium had paid because of her unpreparedness, he said:

"Some day or other it may well be that we shall have to pay, on a ten-fold greater scale, the same price for exactly the same reasons; and, if such should be the case, remember, my fellow-countrymen, that, whereas the case of the Belgians excited warm sympathy, our misfortunes would excite nothing but scorn and contempt. For a rich, powerful, boastful people, the ridicule of all mankind, whether from sheer silliness and shortsightedness or from soft timidity, or from gross and greedy devotion to the material benefits of the moment, it falls to prepare itself to defend its own rights with its own strength."

Col. Roosevelt spoke derisively of "eloquence as a substitute for action," and in his arraignment of those who stood in the way of preparedness for war, he said the "professional pacifists, the peace at any price, non-resistance universal arbitration people are seeking to Chinaify this country—to reduce it to the level of impotence to which old China sank."

"The average Chinaman took the view that China was too proud to fight, and in practice made evident its hearty approval of the sentiments of that object lesson, 'I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be a Soldier.' A song which should have as a companion piece one entitled 'I Didn't Raise My Girl to Be a Mother,' approval of which, of course, deprives any men or women of all right of kinship with the soldiers and with the mothers and wives of the soldiers whose valor and services we commemorate on the Fourth of July and on Memorial day; a song the singing of which seems incredible to every man and woman capable of being stirred to lofty and generous enthusiasm by the tremendous surge of Julia Ward Howe's 'Battle Hymn of the Republic.' China has steadily refused to prepare for war. Accordingly, China has had province after province lopped off her until one-half of her territory is now under Japanese, Russian, English and French control.

"In addition, I firmly believe that there should be universal military service for our young men on the Swiss model. In Switzerland the boys are trained for their last few years in the public schools, and after they graduate from the public schools they serve with the army for four or six months and then for eight or ten days every year for the next ten years. This training and service, so far from hampering the Swiss or Switzerland industrially, has added enormously to the industrial efficiency both of the individuals and of the nation, and to their social efficiency also.

"Finally and most important let us remember that there can be no efficient preparedness against war unless we prepare our own souls. If we become soft and flabby physically and morally, we shall fail. No nation ever amounted to anything if its population was composed of pacifists and poltroons. If its sons did not have the fighting edge, if its women did not feel as the mothers of Washington's Continentals felt, as the mothers of the men who followed Grant and Lee felt; men who are not ready to fight for the right are not fit to live in a free democracy. The only women fit to be wives and mothers in a free republic are those who feel that their sons are not sons of theirs unless when their country calls their souls are eager and their feet jubilant to answer the mighty trumpet note which announces that the hearts of men are being sifted out before the judgment seat."

AUTOMOBILE SKIDDED

WET PAVEMENTS IN MOODY ST. RESPONSIBLE FOR AUTO'S HIGH JINKS—NO CASUALTIES

An automobile owned and driven by Joseph Beaudoin of 42 Tucker street, skidded on the wet pavement in Moody street near the corner of Cabot street shortly after 8 o'clock this morning, and although it crashed into another auto and an ice wagon, no serious damage was caused.

The machine first struck Harry Pitts' supply car, and then struck an ice wagon owned by the Daniel Gage Ice Co. The only damage caused was a twisted mud guard on Mr. Beaudoin's car, this being caused by coming in contact with the ice wagon.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE

RUNAWAY HORSE COLLIDED WITH CARRIAGE CONTAINING BABY—WOMAN SLIGHTLY INJURED

Although the carriage containing Baby Shaw, child of William Shaw, of Tewksbury, was demolished when struck by a runaway horse in Tewksbury last evening, the child was uninjured. The father of the child who was wheeling the carriage at the time of the accident, was slightly injured, while Mrs. William Confield of 43 Lincoln street, was also struck and she received several bruises, which were later treated by her physician.

The horse is the property of Constantine Bivales of 62 Gorham street, this city, and was hitched to a fruit wagon. It was left standing in Rogers street, just over the Lowell line, when suddenly it started at breakneck speed toward Tewksbury. Shortly after striking the above named people, the horse was brought to a stop.

KING ALBERT DEMOCRAT

BOSTON EDITOR SAYS BELGIAN WAS FIRST TO SAY "MY FELLOW-CITIZENS"

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 22.—Albert, king of the Belgians, while making the rounds with Washington newspapermen when a prince, caught a spirit of democracy that may yet affect nations, Joseph Mitchell Chapin of Boston, a newspaper editor, said last night in an address on "The Joy and Value of Making Acquaintances," at the annual banquet of the International Association of Rotary clubs.

"When the guns sounded at Liege and flashed to the world the news of invasion and destruction," he said, "the young prince issued a proclamation in phraseology that has never been used by kings, ancient or modern. It began, 'My fellow-citizens.'"

"The impact with democracy has ripened into action, and on the banks of the river Yser today stands the solitary figure of the king, who, I believe, will be ready to hand back his scepter to his people and become the father of the first new republic in the new United States of Europe."

Yesterday's sessions of the Rotary club convention was devoted to sectional meetings.

BOLERO FROCKS ONE OF THE MOST INTERESTING FEATURES FOR CHILDREN

Bolero frocks make one of the very latest and most interesting features of fashion. They are charming and becoming to childish figures and are altogether most attractive. This one can be treated in a number of ways. It consists of a short-sleeved body portion to which the straight skirt is attached and a sleeveless jacket. Here, the jacket matches the rest of the frock, but it would be quite as fashionable to make it of a different material and a bright colored taffeta would be charming over a white dress or over a flowered organza, or colored linen could be used over a cotton crepe or voile. Rose color, blue and certain yellow shades are especial favorites and they make very quaint and picturesque effects over either white or flowered materials. Nothing could be simpler than this dress, nothing easier to make, yet it is one of the newest and most fashionable. If it were made of white cotton voile or white net with hand sewed tucks finishing the skirt and the jacket were of rose colored taffeta edged with ruffles of the same, it would be an exceedingly handsome little dress for parties, dances and all occasions of the kind. Made from the flowered batiste shown here it is just a pretty one that can be worn upon any summer afternoon.

ORDERED INTO INTERIOR

WOMEN AND CHILDREN REFUSED TO OBEY TURKISH OFFICERS—FIERCE STRUGGLE

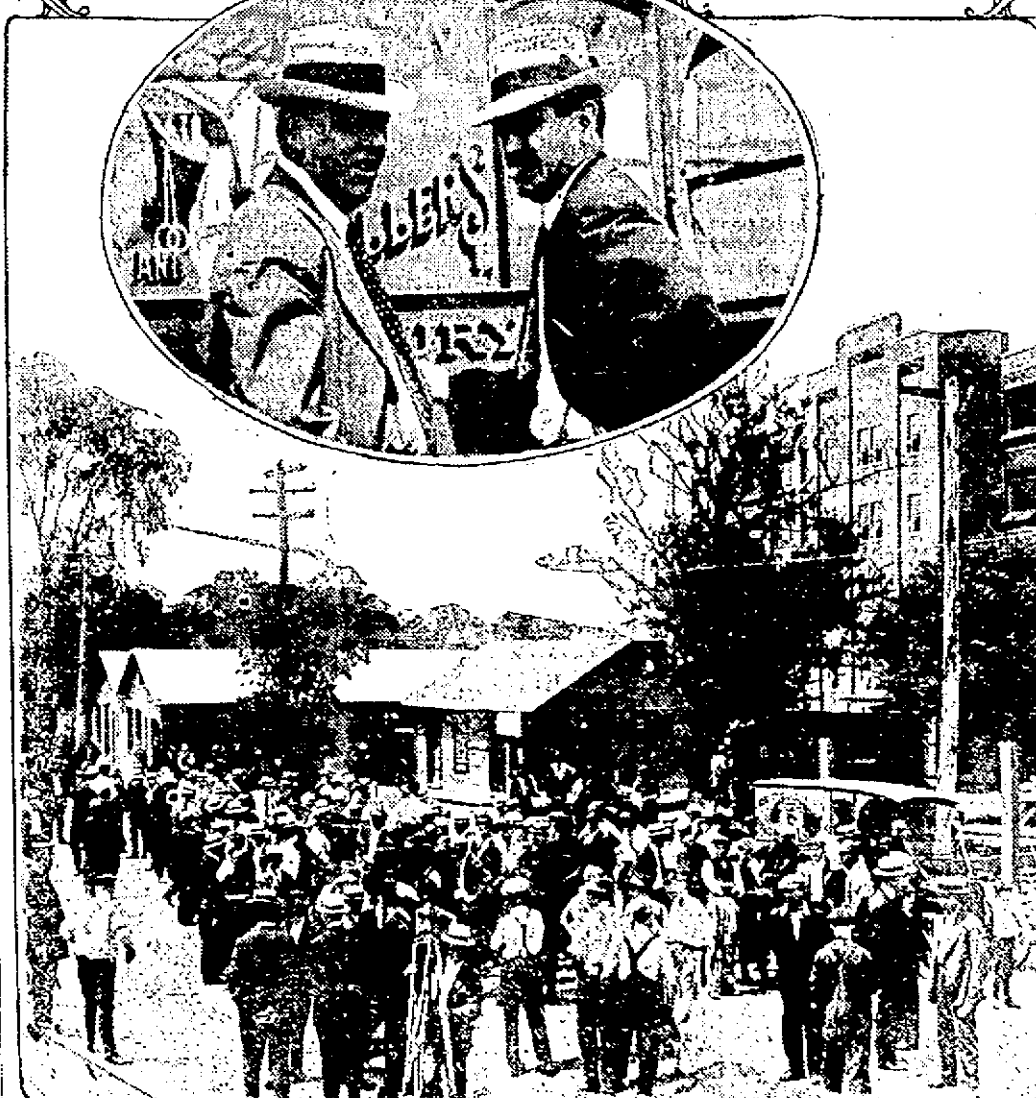

PARIS, July 22, 12:15 a. m.—A Havas despatch from Athens says:

"Turkish military authorities, according to advices received from Vural, (a port in Smyrna on the Gulf of Smyrna) have ordered all Christian women and children to leave the town and go into the interior. Many of the residents refused to obey the order, and a fierce struggle followed, in which many were victims.

"The Greek government has received from the Porte no reply to representations regarding the persecution of Greeks in Turkish territory. The delay is attributed to the difficulties of communication by telegraph.

"Some of the newspapers are urging the government to assume an energetic policy in dealing with Turkey."

POWERFUL EFFORTS MADE TO PREVENT MUNITIONS STRIKE AT BRIDGEPORT

JOHNSTON and KEPPLER SCENE OUTSIDE REMINGTON FACTORY at BRIDGEPORT

Although the strike of machinists at the new plant of the Remington Arms and Ammunition company, and which twenty or more international labor leaders gathered at Bridgeport, Conn., counted upon to start a general conflagration, did not take place, it was admitted that powerful efforts were at work trying to stir up trouble. John A. Johnston, international vice president of the Iron Workers' union, and J. J. Keppler, vice president of the machinists, were on hand to inaugurate the big strike. All of Bridgeport's available policemen were on duty at the plant. Johnston (on left) and Keppler are shown in the accompanying illustration; also a scene outside the Remington factory.

OPEN EVENINGS

atre is offering one of the most extraordinary programs of advanced vaudeville and pictures ever known at a summer park theatre. Headed by the sensational performance of The Twelve Days in an acrobatic act that makes the patrons gasp with astonishment, the bill gathers an impetus that carries it to a most successful conclusion. The act is a whirlwind of action from start to finish and at times all twelve of the clever performers are in action at the same time making the stage a maze of animation and startling feats.

Madame Faversham and her Four Venetian Beauties present a vocal and terpsichorean offering that for artistry and sublime beauty could not be excelled. In pictures the comedian of the day is Charlie Chaplin, but in stagedom the honors must be passed to Eddie Dowling, whose original tunnyisms have already become known to the theatregoers in this city, thousands having enjoyed him during the engagement of Human's Musical Revue and again at the head of his own company. Eddie Dowling has arranged an original set of his own that fairly bubbles with good humor and mirth from start to finish.

Motion pictures have not been left out of the program either for the management has included a selected few that will add just that variety and interest that the patrons would desire.

THEATRE VOYONS
Well the Irish people of Lowell have proved that they are patriotic, as the crowds at the Voyons the first three days of this week have shown the management that they appreciate his efforts to get something to please them. For the last half of the week another Irish feature based on the present war entitled "It's a Long Way to Tipperary." Be sure and see this masterpiece of Irish drama. If you have a drop of Irish blood in your veins come and applaud the Irish heroes in the trenches at the present time. Remember the show lasts over two hours as there are six other reels besides the feature. Anyone not satisfied can have his money back by saying so at the box office.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
William Faversham, the most commanding figure on the American stage today will appear in the photodrama, "The Right of Way," a new play by F. R. Keith, the final three days of the present week, beginning this afternoon. It is such a story as occurs but once in a decade, perhaps more, written by one of the few masters of the English language, and a man of lofty conception. It is a story of the kind that only semi-occasionally, even in these days, finds its way onto the moving picture screen, and well it is that the leading character is portrayed by such a finished artist as William Faversham. "The Right of Way" was one of the six best sellers, but it was that because of superior merit, and not because it dealt diply and sensationally with a return of life. It will inspire deep thought, and its appeal to the innate purity of all will make itself manifest. It is the story of a man who regains a faith in his own life, and who, through knowing the guilt of a man, saves that man and then suffers a return of faith in his own life. In addition to this masterpiece there will be shown four shorter pictures.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Two splendidly acted five act photoplays are the headliners on the program of the Merrimack Square theatre for today, Friday and Saturday. "Kilmeny" is the title of the five act Paramount picture. The play concerns itself with the eventual life of a woodland sprite of a girl who has spent all of her early life with the gypsies. The romance of the wandering life is revealed in this well staged picture. The many scenes are full of natural beauty. Gypsy camps by mountain pools, the long white road flowing through splendid canyons into the sunset, and other beautiful settings delight the eye. Mrs. Lenore Ulrich, the star of "The Bird of Paradise" is seen in the leading role of "Kilmeny." She is supported by a very strong cast of celebrated actors, among whom appears Gordon Griffith, the popular boy star. "Fine Feathers" is the other five-act picture play to be seen at this comfortable theatre during these next three days. The plot of this play is centered about a woman's vanity and a man's weakness. To save his wife's inordinate desire for fine clothes, the husband commits a breach of duty which results in terrible consequences. The scene of the mighty dam breaking and the terrible sweep of water will fascinate everyone who sees it. Besides these two wonderful numbers the program for today and the next two days also includes several very amusing comedies with some of the most celebrated fun-makers.
